FOREWORD

The glowing lights, the towering skyscrapers, the sprawling residences, the emptiness of a vacant street, the confusion of the masses, the wandering derelicts, the frantic shoppers: these elements and many more constitute a city. Surrounded by snow-capped mountains and sparkling waters, our Queen City lies in a picturesque setting. However, there is more to Seattle than the beauty of its environment. The buildings and surroundings form the city, but the people give the city its versatile personality.

Like the school, the city is a center of hard work and relaxation. It is a compromise between the old and traditional and the new and bold. It is a meeting place for all cultures and a diffusing point for ideas.

To the students of Shoreline, the city means more than a combination of buildings and people. The city represents the opportunities and hopes of the future. Upon leaving high school and going in diverse directions, seeking happiness in college, marriage, service, and employment, the Shoreline graduates will enter the different walks of life on the various avenues of the metropolis.

TEACHING STAFF INSPIRES STUDENT BODY

"Self-discipline is one of the most important benchmarks of an educated person. The person who strives for self-discipline throughout his entire life values freedom and liberty highly. The un-disciplined person associates freedom and liberty with a lack of restraint upon himself.

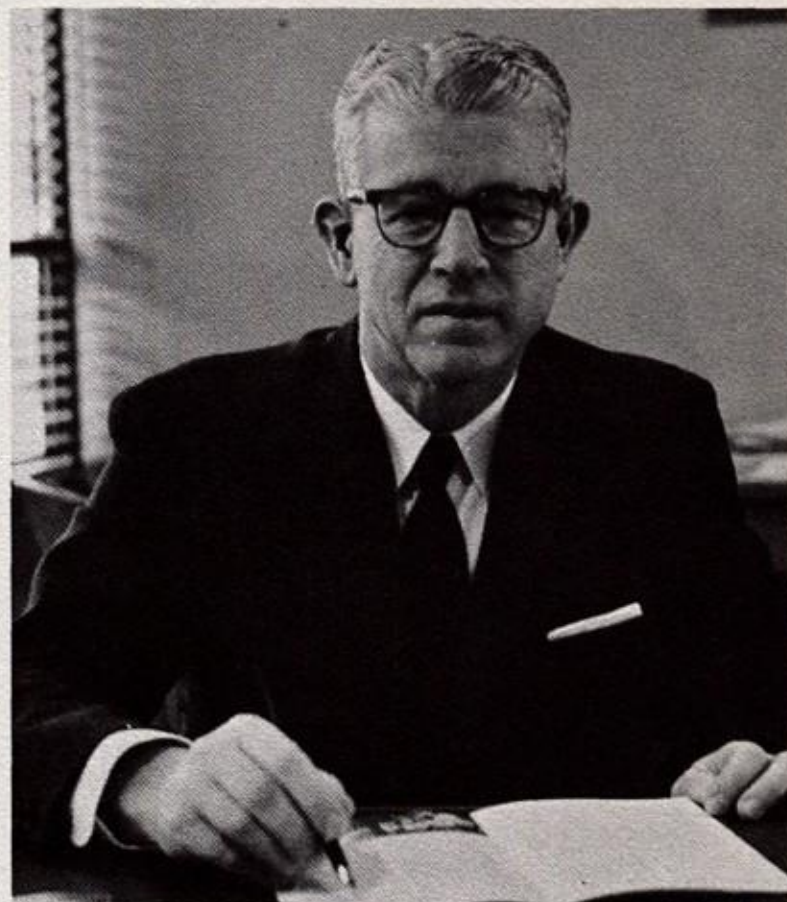

"The greatness of America is to be found in the self-disciplined effort of many of its people. The weakness of America is to be found in the misuse of freedom by some of its people.

"It has been a wonderful privilege for us to work with you. We hope that the love of freedom and liberty will cause your life to be guided by a sense of personal discipline dedicated to doing good."

With all best wishes,

Ray W. Howard

Superintendent of Schools

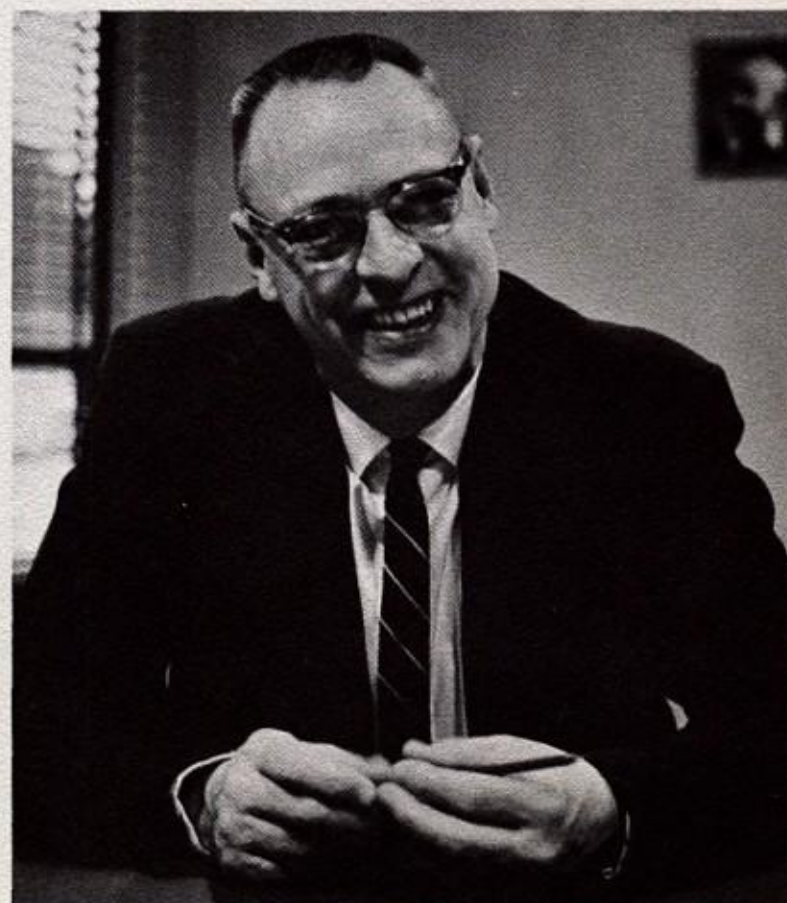

"The faculty has called this graduating class 'outstanding.' Your enthusiasm for learning has made it possible to achieve high standards in academics and activities. This same enthusiasm which characterizes you will guarantee your success in the future. Don't lose it! Emerson once said, 'Nothing great is ever accomplished without enthusiasm.' "

As always,

Ed Hasselblad

FACULTY

MR. RICHARD LANDER Department Head; Teaches: Eng. 10 and 12; Degrees: B.A. and M.A. from U. of W.; Advises: Senior Class.

MR. MORRIS HENDRICKSON Teaches: Eng. 10 and Drama; Degree: B.A. from P.L.U.; Coordinates: The Plays and Variety Show.

MR. LYLE ENDICOTT Teaches: Eng. 10 and 11; Degree: B.A. from Eastern Oregon C.; Advises: Debate Club.

MRS. GAIL EVANS Teaches: Eng. 10 and 11; Degrees: B.A. from Reed C. and M.A. from U. of Minn.; Advises: G. C. Fashions Comm.

SCOPE OF CURRICULUM WIDENED

A new innovation in the English Department this year is the Team Teaching Program in the senior intensive classes. This program is designed as a college preparatory course with seminar groups and lectures twice a week. Another new addition is the Contract Reading Program through which qualified teachers on contract by the Shoreline School Board correct student themes. This system enables the teachers to assign more compositions and receive assistance in the correction of them.

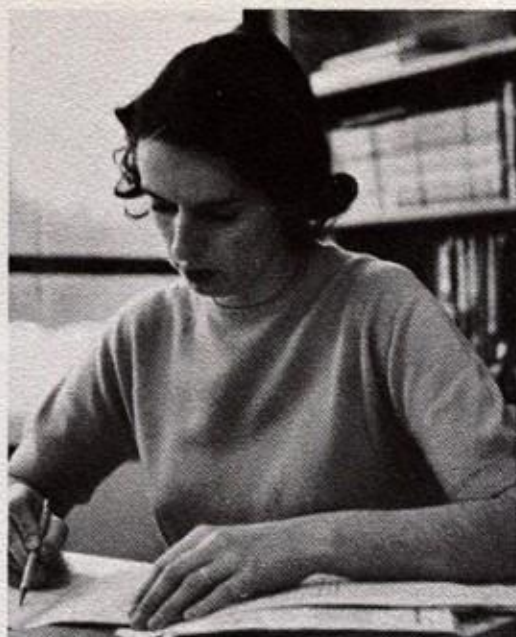

MISS KAY HOLM Teaches: Eng. 11 and 12; Degree: B.A. from P.L.U.; Coordinates: Humanities Notetaking Course.

MR. F. J. JOHNSON JR. Teaches: Eng. 12, Team Teacher; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Coordinates: Intramural Activities.

MRS. KAY KEYES Teaches: Eng. 12, Team Teacher; Degrees: B.A. from Holy Names C., M.A. from Catholic U. of Amer.; Advises: Shoreliner and Quill and Scroll.

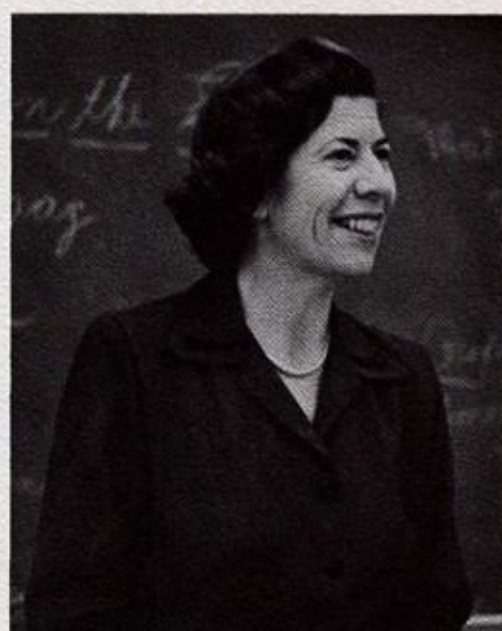

MRS. MARION LAVRINEC Teaches: Eng. 11 and U.S. History; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: Honor Soc.

MR. NELSON LEHMAN Teaches: Eng. 10 and 11; Degrees: A.B. from Dartmouth, and M.A. from U. of Chicago; Advises: Errant.

MRS. MARGARET MARSHALL Teaches: Eng. 11; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: Tide Staff and Senior Prom Comm.

MISS MARGARET NEWELL Teaches: Eng. 10 and 11; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: Junior Red Cross.

MR. FREDERICK OLSON Teaches: Eng. 11 and 12, Team Teacher; Degree: B.A. from U. of Minn.; Advises: Honor Society.

MRS. PHYLLIS PEARSON Teaches: Eng. 11 and Senior Make-up Eng.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: G. C. Fashions Comm.

MR. LESTER POPE Teaches: Eng. 12, Coordinator of Team Teaching; Degrees: B.A. and M.A. from U. of W.; Interests: Music, and Fishing.

MRS. MARION SICELOFF Teaches: Eng. 10 and 12; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: G. C. Tolo Comm.

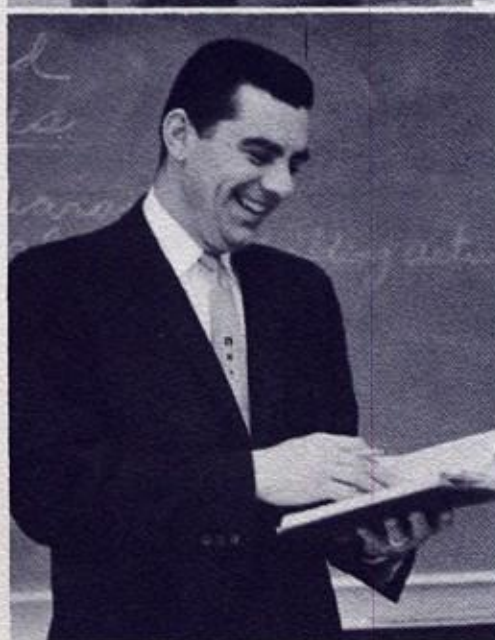

MRS. JOAN EMPFIELD Department Head; Teaches: U.S. Hist. and Economics; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: F.T.A.

MRS. MARY STEPHENS Teaches: Eng. 10 and World Hist.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: S. P. A. D. E. S.

MR. DEREK WHITMARSH Teaches: Eng. 10 and Spanish; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: F.T.A.

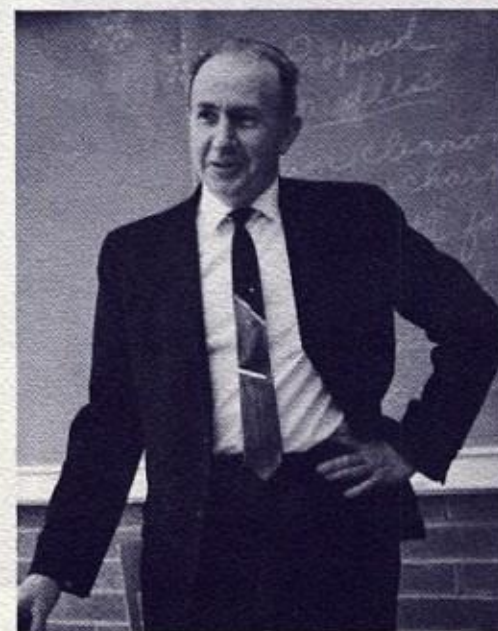

MR. WILLIAM BAYARD Teaches: U. S. and World Hist.; Degrees: B.A. and M.A. from U. of W.; Advises: F.T.A. and Foreign Exchange.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT PREPARES FUTURE CITIZENS

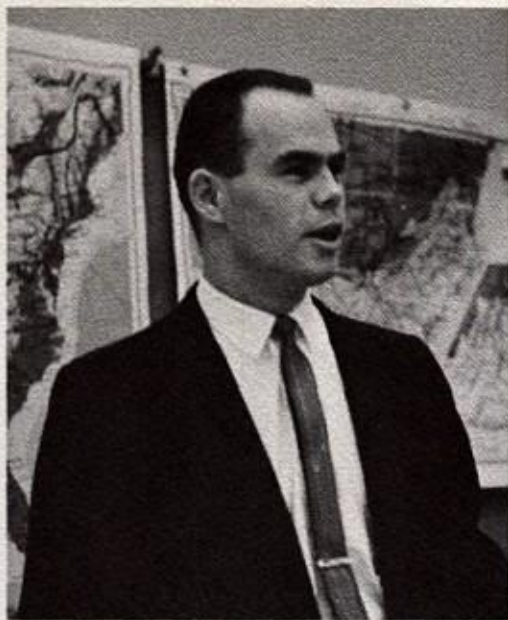

From the Social Studies Department students can increase their knowledge and can gain experience to become future citizens who are not only able to lead but who are able to meet their responsibilities maturely. Courses such as World Problems and Economics help give a better understanding of the world and its complexities.

MR. RICHARD BOYTZ Teaches: U.S. and World Hist.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Faculty Ass't. to Student Body.

DR. WADE KNISELEY Teaches: U. S. Hist. and World Prob.; Degrees: B.A. and M.A. from U. of W., Ph.D. from U.S.C.; Co-sponsors: Student Elections.

MR. JAMES KREISS Teaches: U.S. and World Hist.; Degree: B.A. from W.W.C.E.; Advises: U.N. Club.

MISS GRACE MAIER Teaches: Senior Seminar, U.S. and World Hist.; Degree: B.A. from W.W.C.E.; Advises: Assembly Comm.

MR. WILLIAM ODELL Teaches: U. S. Hist.; Degrees: B.S. from U. of Vermont and M.A. from Harvard U.; Advises: Student Elections.

MR. ALAN PORTER Teaches: World Hist. and World Prob.; Degrees: B.A. and M.A. from W.W.C.E.; Advises: Bldg. and Grounds Comm.

MR. JACK SHORE Teaches: World and U.S. Hist.; Degrees: B.A. from C.W.C.E. and M.A. from Columbia U.; Coaches: Golf Team.

MR. HENRY THOMSON Teaches: U.S. and World Hist. and Physical Ed.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Coaches: Track Team, Ass't. Football Coach.

DOMESTIC ARTS APPLIED

MRS. NANCY DODGE Teaches: Foods, Hm. Furn., Adv. Hm. Econ. and Survey of Hm. Ec.; Degree: B.S. from U. of W.; Advises: Banquet Comm.

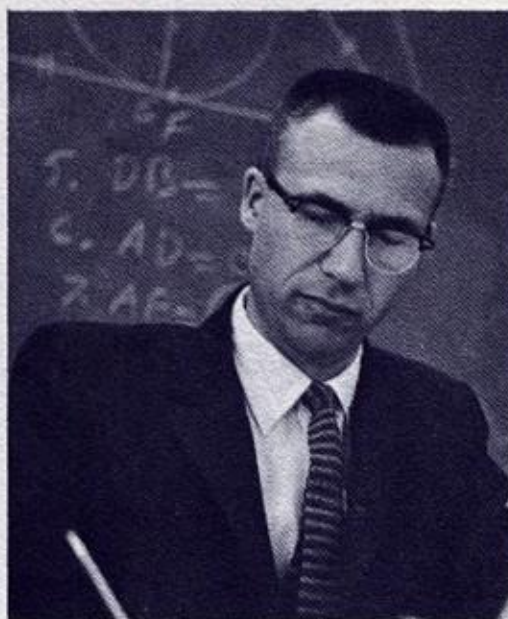

MR. GORDON ROBERTS Department Head; Teaches: Alg. 1, Math. Anal. and Calculus; Degrees: B.A. from U. of W. and M.A. from U. of Chicago.

MR. JAMES ENSLIN Teaches: Sr. Math., Alg. 1 and Plane Geom.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Advises: Sophomore Class.

MR. ROMMEL FREITAG Teaches: Sr. Math., Plane Geom., Alg. 3 and Fund. of Math.; Degree: B.S. from S. P. C.; Sponsors: Activity Card Sales.

MR. ARTHUR ANDREWS Teaches: Math. Anal., Alg., Trig. and Plane Geom.; Degree: B.S. from U. of W.; Interest: Music.

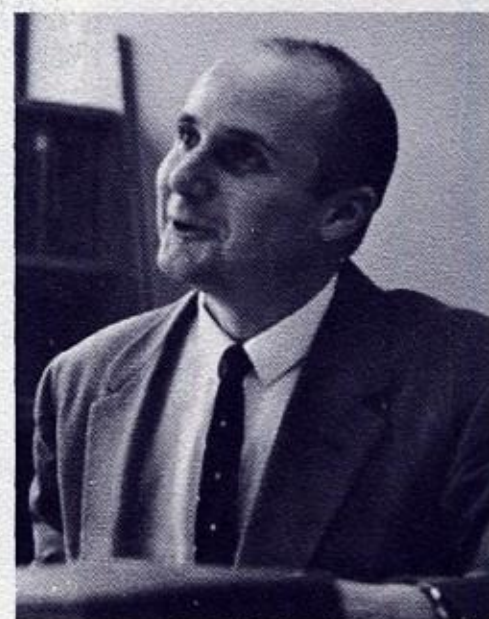

MR. CLINT CHARLSON Teaches: Alg. 3 and Trig. and Pl. and Solid Geom.; Degrees: B.A. and M.A. from W.S.U.; Advises: Bldg. and Grounds Comm.

MATHEMATICS MEETS THE CHALLENGE

Today an ever increasing emphasis is being placed on mathematical skills, and Shoreline's Math. Department is ready to meet this challenge. Not only are fundamental courses such as beginning Algebra and Geometry offered to every student, but advanced courses in Trigonometry, Math. Analysis and college Calculus are provided for students who have a special interest in mathematics. It is hoped that every student who leaves Shoreline will have selected a math. course suitable to his needs.

MR. MAYNARD HEIEN Teaches: Plane Geom., Alg. 1 and 3 and Trig.; Degrees: B.S. and M.S. from U. of Idaho; Advises: Book Room.

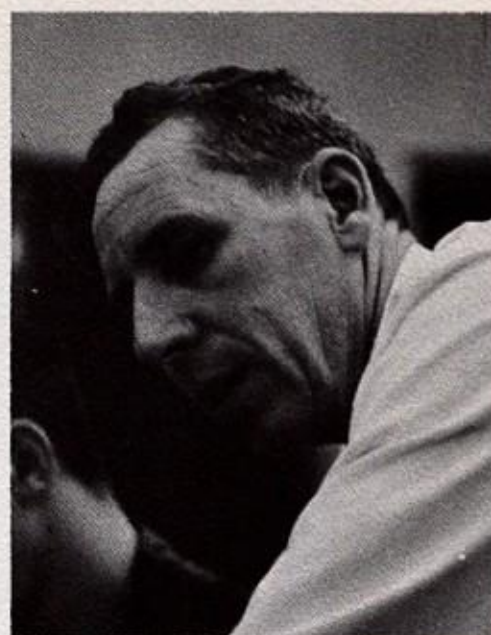

MR. DEAN KIMBLE Teaches: Plane Geom., Alg. 3 and Physics; Degree: B.S. from S.P.C.; Advises: B. C. Parking Comm.

MR. JACK SHERWOOD Teaches: Alg. 3 and Trig., Geom. and Sr. Math.; Degree: B.S. from U. of W.; Coaches: Basketball Team.

SCIENCE APPLIED

The basic objective of the Science Department is to teach the students a fundamental knowledge of the physical elements and laws of nature through such courses as Physics, Chemistry, and Biology. These courses offer the key to understanding the world around us.

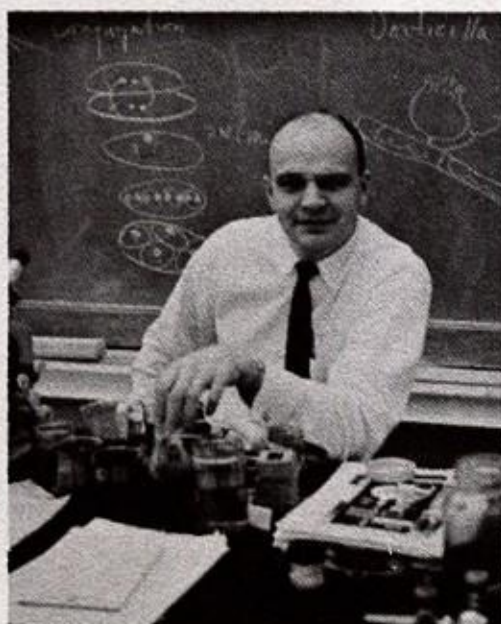

MR. WARD TEEL Department Head; Teaches: Physics; Degrees: B.S. from S.P.C. and M.S. from U. of W.; Advises: S. B. A. Finance Comm.

MR. ACAR BILL Teaches: Chemistry and Biology; Degrees: A.B. from Robert Col. and B.S. from Wayne State U.; Interests: Chemistry.

MR. WILHELM CHRISTENSEN Teaches: Biology; Degree: B.A. from P.L.U.; Advises: Lunchroom Comm.

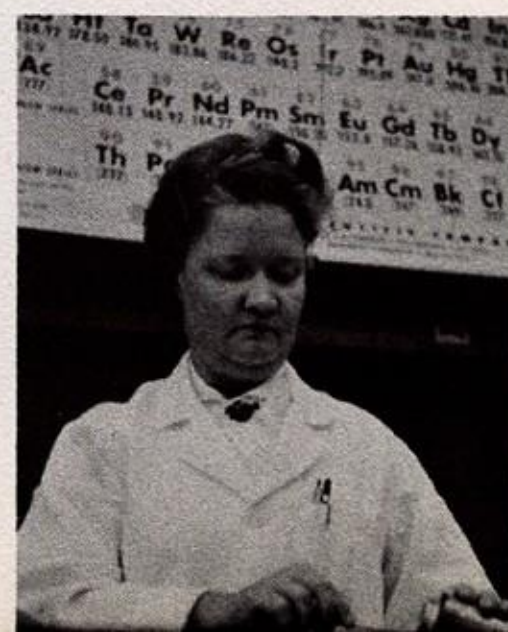

MR. KRIS FROSIG Teaches: Biology; Degree: B.A. from Augsburg College; Advises: Landscaping and Gardening Activities.

MRS. LOIS HOPKINS Teaches: Biology; Degrees: B.S. from Oregon State C. and M.S. from U. of W.; Advises: G. C. Friendship Comm.

DR. CELIA MAE SCOTT Teaches: Chemistry; Degrees: B.S. and PhD. from Ohio State U. and M.A. from Western Reserve U.; Sponsors: G.C. Amiga.

MR. PHILIP KAUFER Department Head; Teaches: Latin; Degree: B.S. from U.S.C.; Advises: Latin Club.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE AIDS CULTURAL EXCHANGE

MR. HANS KURKOWSKI Teaches: German; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Interest: Classical Music.

MR. OLIVER LaFRENIERE Teaches: French and German; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Sponsors: Chess Club.

MR. HEATON RANDALL Teaches: Spanish and Russian; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Co-sponsors: Jr. Achievement.

The Foreign Language Department offers advanced courses in Latin, German, French, Spanish and Russian, placing emphasis on oral comprehension and speech development. A new addition last year was the language laboratory, which has been an excellent assistance in speech improvement.

MR. ROBERT RIGGS Teaches: Spanish and French; Degree: B.A. from S.P.S.; Co-sponsors: Debate Club.

MRS. KATHERINE TIMAR Teaches: French and Spanish; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Sponsors: G. C. Scrapbook Comm.

CREATIVE TALENT ENCOURAGED

In the Art Department students are trained in basic art skills, and they learn to apply these skills in creative drawing, painting, and crafts. Students also visit art galleries and museums to help develop their appreciation.

MRS. PAT NICKELSON Teaches: Basic and Adv. Art, Drawing and Painting, and Cmcl. Art; Degree: B.A. from Holy Names C.; Sponsors: Art Service Club.

MR. WALTER DAWSON Department Head; Teaches: Bookkeeping and Typ.; Degrees: B.A. and B.E. from Whitworth C.; Co-sponsors: Jr. Achievement.

PREPARING TOMORROW'S BUSINESS LEADERS

The Business Education Department strives to give students a practical background in areas such as Bookkeeping, Typing, Business Law, Shorthand, Consumers Ed. and Retail Selling. Courses of this nature provide the student with the experience he needs before beginning a business career.

MRS. SYLVIA BALLARD Teaches: Trans., Shorthand and Pers. Typ.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Co-advises: Sr. Class and Cheerleaders.

MR. PATRICK INGERSOLL Teaches: Bus. Law, Shorthand, Retail Sell. and Bookkeeping; Degree: B.A. from W. W. C. E.; Co-sponsors: Dance Comm.

MRS. GLADYS KUYKENDALL Teaches: Bus. Corres., Typ. and Cons. Ed.; Degree: B.S. from U. of Denver; Sponsors: F.B.L.A.

MRS. BERTHA LINCOLN Teaches: Fast Writ., Off. Machines, Off. Pract. and Typ. 1; Degree: B.S. from Ariz. State U., M.S. from Columbia U.

MISS ISLA REPLOGLE Teaches: Typ. and Physical Ed.; Degree: B.A. from U. of Denver; Sponsors: G.R.A.

MR. "JELLY" ANDERSEN Supervises: Study Halls; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Coaches: Baseball Team and Ass't. Football Coach.

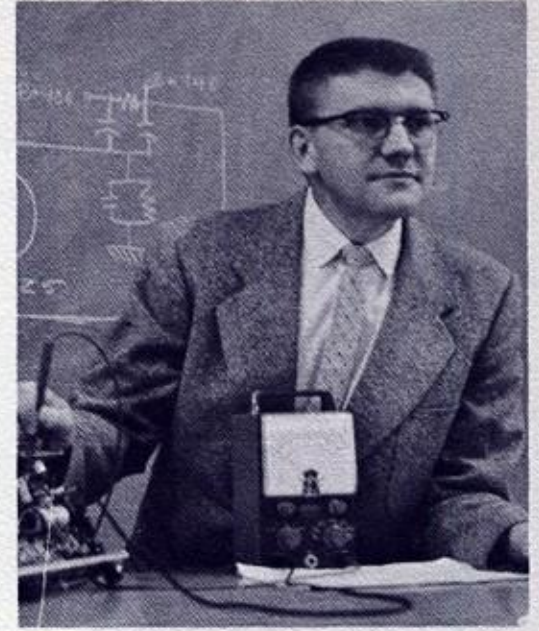

INDUSTRIAL ARTS ASSIST IN BUILDING SKILLS

MR. MAXWELL CARTER Department Head; Teaches: Tech. Drawing 1 and 3 and Plane Geom.; Degree: B.A. from W.S.U.; Interest: Boating.

MR. ROBERT BISNETT Teaches: Driver Education; Degree: B.A. from W. S. U.; Advises: Shoreline Safety Council.

MR. PHILIP HOXTER Teaches: Driver Education and Radio-Electricity; Degree: B.A. from W.S.U.; Sponsors: Amateur Radio Club.

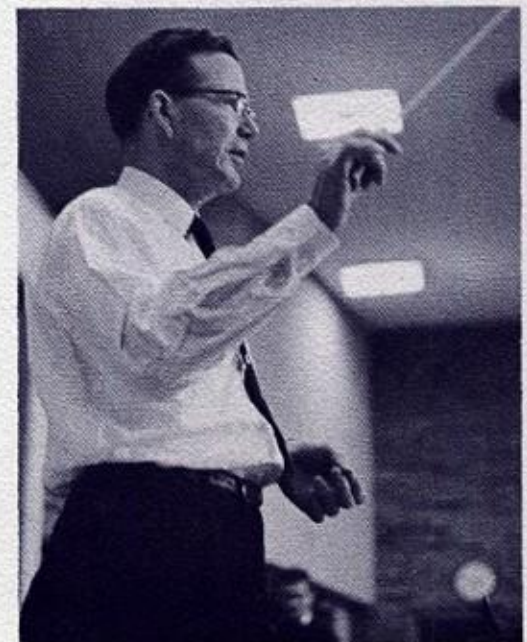

MR. DAVID PESZNECKER Teaches: Metal Shop; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Sponsors: Bonhommes (Auto Club).

The primary function of the Industrial Arts program is to give students vocational training as well as practical experience. Training of this nature aids students in obtaining employment. The courses include a variety of skills, from Auto Mechanics to Wood Shop.

MR. JAMES THOMAS Teaches: Auto Mechanics; Trains mechanics at Edison Technical School.

MR. WALTER BARNUM Department Head; Teaches: Orchestra and Cadet Band; Degrees: B.S. from W.W.C.E. and M.S. from U. of O.; Sponsors: Music Ensembles.

MR. NOEL ABRAHAMSON Teaches: Band; Degree: B.A. from S.P.C.; Interest: Music.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT ACTIVE IN SCHOOL FUNCTIONS

The Music Department takes an active part in many school activities. Not only does it provide background music at pep assemblies and the half-time shows at football games, but the choir, band, and orchestra are also active in concert work. For the many serious music students, additional solo and ensemble work is offered, as well as a seventh period class in Theory and Harmony. The Music Department hopes to enrich the fine arts background of its students.

MR. LEONARD MOORE Teaches: Aeolian Chorale, Beg. Choir and Girls' Ensemble; Degree: B.A. from Columbia U.; Attended Juilliard School of Music.

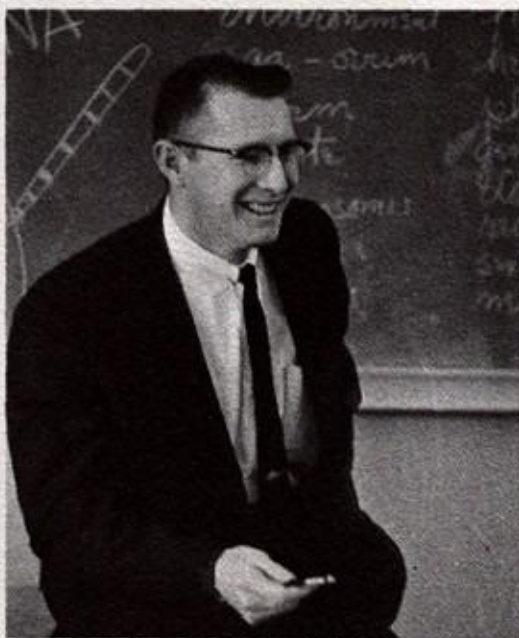

HEALTH HELPS US TO UNDERSTAND OURSELVES

MRS. VIRGINIA BRANNAN Teaches: Health Education; Degrees: B.S. from U. of W. and M.S. from U. of O.; Sponsors: G. C. Bulletin B.

MISS LOIS HORN Teaches: Health Education and Physical Ed.; Degree: B.A. from U. of W.; Sponsors: Song Leaders.

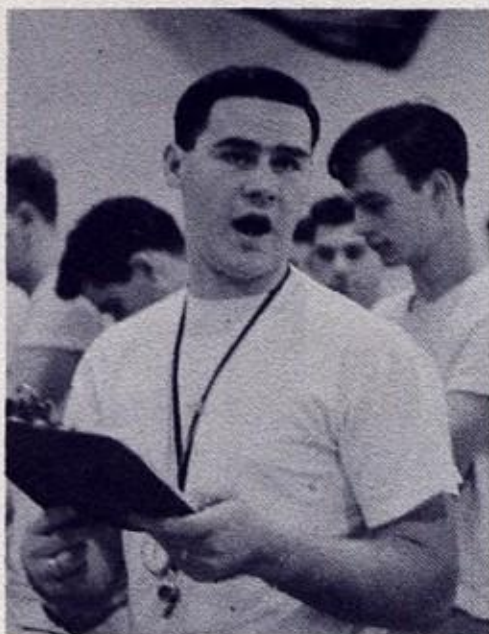

MR. JAMES McCANN Teaches: Health Education and Physical Ed.; Degrees: B.S. from Brockport State C. and M.S. from W.S.U.; Co-sponsors: Gymnastics.

MR. ANDREW SLATT Department Head; Teaches: Physical Ed.; Degree: A.B. from U. of Kentucky; Co-sponsors: Lettermen's Club and Wrestling.

MR. KENNETH HABECK Teaches: Physical Ed.; Degrees: B.A. from Winona State College and M.A. from U. of W.; Co-coaches: Football and Wrestling.

MR. JAMES HARRYMAN Teaches: Physical Ed.; Degree: B.S. from U. of W.; Sponsors: Boys' Club Usher Force.

MISS DOROTHY ALLEN Teaches: Physical Ed.; Degree: B.A. from U. of O.; Sponsors: G. C. Color Guard.

MISS PATRICIA COFFEY Librarian; Degrees: B.S. from U. of W., M.A. from W.S.U.

MISS HELEN LEWIS Department Head; Teaches: Physical Ed.; Degrees: B.S. and M.S. from U. of O.; Advises: Girls' Club.

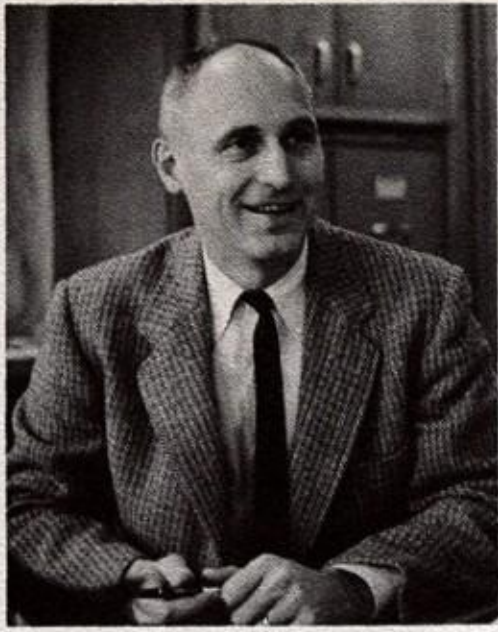

MISS MARILYN MULRONEY Teaches: Physical Ed.; Degree: B.S. from W.S.U.; Sponsors: Girls' Intramurals; Tennis Coach.

MRS. MALMSTROM Secretary to the Librarian.

P.E. CLASSES STRIVE FOR PHYSICAL FITNESS

The main objective of the physical education program is to aid in the growth and development of every student.

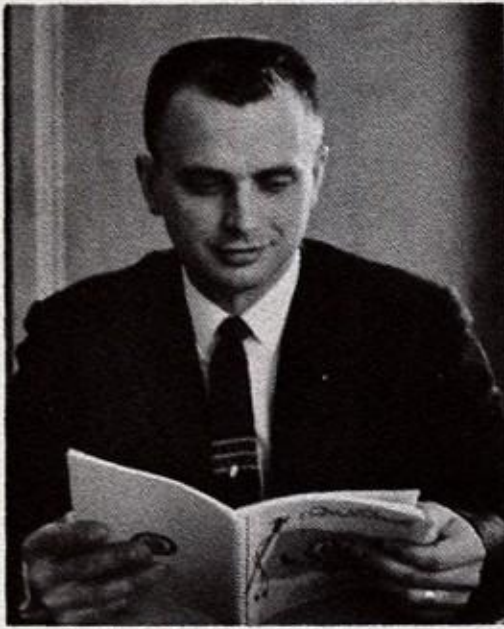

MR. LYNN WALLER Vice Principal;
Degrees: B.A. from Ohio State U. and M.A. from U. of W.

COUNSELORS ADVISE STUDENTS

Shoreline's Counseling Department not only offers personal advice to the students, but also gives assistance in career planning. Information on almost all colleges in the United States is available in the counseling office. These materials, together with valuable counseling service, facilitate students in preparing for the future.

MRS. ANNETTE FORMAN Secretary to the Vice Principal.

MR. GEORGE SOLTMAN Senior Counselor; Degree: B.S. from U. of W.

MRS. NELL JONES Secretary to the Counselors.

MISS JANET SMITH Junior Counselor;

SCHOOL LIFE

SHORELINERS LEARN PRACTICAL ARTS

Demonstrating a few of the skills learned in his wood shop class is Mike Krusell.

Masked men are a common sight in the metal shop. On the top left is Terry Larson with his instructor, Mr. David Presznecker.

Testing his receiver with an oscilloscope is Walt Scott from the radio shop.

SHOP NOISES

A great variety of noises comes each day from the shop wing. Noise, however, is not all that's made. Besides learning the basic principles of wood, metal, and electricity, these boys have the opportunity to apply their skills on modern machinery. They may make such projects as bowls, cedar chests, go-carts, radio receivers and transmitters. Their work provides them with a background for repairing, operating, and for vocational training.

Whatever the reason for taking an industrial arts course, students who do so are provided with training and principles which will prove useful both now and later in life.

ARTS OF HOMEMAKING

Two units of home economics are a requirement for the graduation of girls, and those who fulfill this requirement are seldom sorry at the end of their course.

The curriculum includes many courses not only in general and advanced homemaking, but also in tailoring, home furnishings, clothing, and foods. Future homemakers learn budgeting, home management, meal preparation, and clothing construction; besides providing academic knowledge, all courses admittedly have practical application.

Bilau was the dish prepared by Miss Sughra Aziz, an exchange teacher from Pakistan, for this foods class.

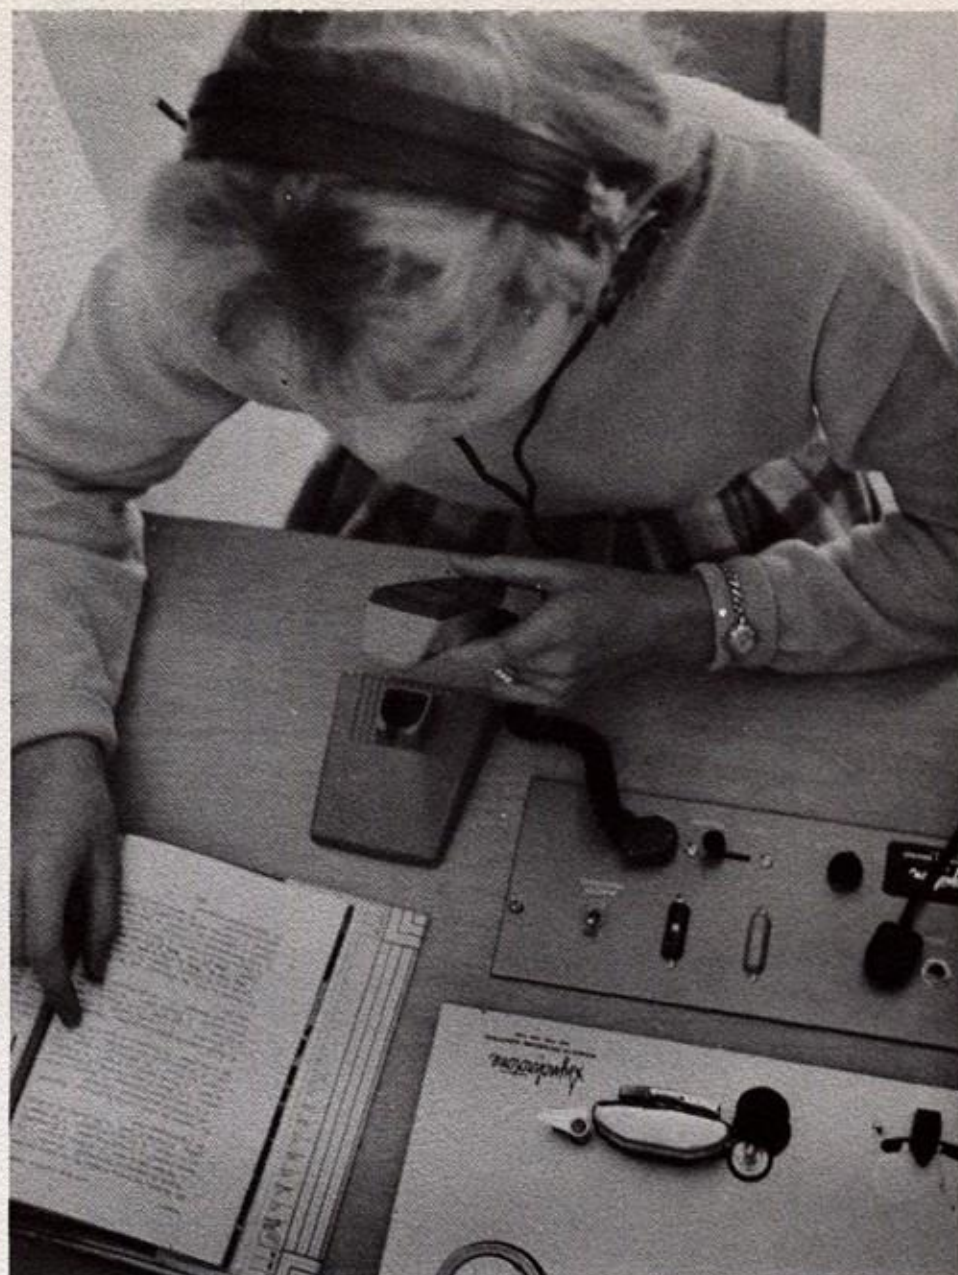

From the master control stand, the instructor may listen to student responses. Pictured is Mrs. Katherine Timar.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS?

Parlez-vous Francais? was for many years perhaps the only phrase that supposedly French-speaking students could understand in a conversation with the average Frenchman. The sad fact was that very few foreign language students could understand their language as it was spoken by a native, and for this reason the foreign language laboratory has been more helpful and successful than ordinary classroom techniques.

The student sits in half-partitioned booths with headphones over his ears and a microphone in his hand. The headphones enable him to hear tapes of the language in a native's tongue or his own teacher's voice. In either case he is helped to improve his comprehension, and the close-up of his teacher's enunciation will often help him with his own conversation.

French is this student's foreign language elective, but the laboratory may be useful for all language study.

Guest speakers often address social studies classes. Here Mrs. Joan Emfield's economics class and Dr. Wade Kniseley's world problems class listen to a lecture.

THE BAND NEVER RESTS

Executing complicated marching maneuvers with precise timing, the band presented half time extravaganzas for the football games. They have also been seen performing on the University of Washington field for the opening game of the season and participating in the Santa Claus Parade. The students at Pacific Lutheran were enthralled by the excellent program that band members presented, and it was televised locally by the campus station. The band has played for numerous assemblies throughout the year and has also presented several programs.

Comparing notes while fellow debater Jana Echols speaks at the lectern are Tom Mounsey and Dave Reuther.

Impromptu discussions are often held by debaters. Seated are: Ramon Penichet, Ray Willman, Jana Echols, Tom Mounsey, Carolyn Wade, and Pearl King. Standing is Lynne DeMerritt.

FOLLOWING THE DEBATERS

A small but very active group is the Debate Club. Its few members under the leadership of advisers Mr. Robert Riggs, Mr. Lyle Endicott, and Miss Marilyn Mulroney have become well versed in all phases of the United Nations while debating this year's topic, Resolved: "The United Nations should be significantly strengthened." During the course of the year several tournaments were attended. For junior debaters, those debating for the first time, there was the Metro League, and for senior members, the Puget Sound League. Participating in extemporaneous speaking with subject matter of foreign policy and agricultural problems, debaters support the school academically while absorbing information on a modern world and learning poise in public speaking.

Those familiar faces seen so often at so many of our basketball games belong to the members of our Pep Band: (first row) John Knoll, Jim Duffy, Bill Turnidge, Dwight Peterson, Steve May; (second row) Dade Gunning, Brian Anderson, Brian Cole, Jim Hanson, Dick Carver; (third row) Doug Kay, Don Gordon, Ken Passe, Paul Gilliland, Tom Ruthford, Darrel Gardner, and Gordon Wahlstrom.

CHOIR AND ORCHESTRA CAST

VOICES AND STRINGS

Togetherness seems to be the key note for the orchestra and the Aeolian Chorale. This year's choir and orchestra members have been jointly responsible for those sounds so pleasing to the musically inclined ear. They have presented concerts, performed classic masterpieces, and preserved the charms of a musical score perfectly executed by proficient musicians. A highlight of the season was their Christmas program on KING-TV. There can be, however, no limit to the many outstanding performances they will provide under the capable direction of Mr. Walter Barnum, orchestra director, and Mr. Leonard Moore.

The cast of characters included (standing, left to right): Janette Sloper as the Beautiful Witch; Carol Broderick as Sybil, the parlor maid; Kay Ketcham as the Ugly Witch; Pennie Roach, Janice Buttenob, and Melinda Matney, as the Lewis girls, (friends of Mrs. Larue); Chris Brems as Poison Eddie Schellenbach; Ramon Penichet as Dirty Joe; Dennis Trammell as Stinker; Joe Parente as the chef; Mike Jones as Virgil, the waiter; Norm Powers as the detective; Dale Price as Nelson, Howay's bodyguard; and Terry Reuther as the policeman. Seated (left to right): Toni Elverum as Mrs. Schellenbach, Eddie's mother; Patty Palmer as Mimi; Anne Hill as Mrs. Howard V. Larue III; Bob Matthews as Howay; and Pattie Conn as Carrie, Howay's nursemaid. Missing notables: Mr. Morris Hendrickson, director; Mr. James Kreiss, technical director; and Carol Pokezwinski, student director.

"MRS. McTHING"

Gangsters who don't carry guns, a mobster boss who is afraid of his mother, a temperamental chef who serves only if he likes his customer's name, and a witch who changes from beautiful to ugly at will are only a few of the fantastic characters in Mary Chase's fantasy which was presented on December 1, 2, and 3, 1960. "Mrs. McThing" concerns a wealthy widow whose energetic nine year old son suddenly becomes a perfect gentleman, but she is not happy with the change. Then she learns that the polite Howay is a "stick" sent by Mrs. McThing. The real Howay has run away from home and is working in a pool hall. Mrs. Larue goes there to get her son only to find that Mrs. McThing has sent another stick to replace her. What happens next changes Mrs. Larue's entire outlook on life and promises a more fulfilling life for both Howay and herself.

As part of her intention to keep her son away from what she considers the riff-raff of the outside world, Mrs. Larue refuses to let Howay play with Mimi, Mrs. McThing's daughter. By doing so she becomes a potential victim of her wrath.

It's a sad state of affairs when a respectable woman has to associate with gangsters, but it's even sadder when she has to plot with them to get back into her own home. Belle Larue and her son accompanied by their bodyguard (seated) meet Poison Eddie Schellenbach (standing, center) and a member of his mob, Dirty Joe.

Two organizations that supply tireless and enthusiastic workers for drama's advancement are Drama Club and Thespians. Drama Club members may be seen directing and participating in the musical revues, comedies, skits, and satires presented during the year. Participation is for acting experience, personal amusement, and points for Thespian membership. Thespians is an honorary society for high school dramatists. To be eligible for membership, individuals must earn ten points for their parts in past dramatic productions.

Belle Larue stands dejectedly after failing to convince her friends, the Lewis sisters, that she is the real Belle.

Thespian members are (from rear to front) Kitty Lotter, Joe Parente, Bob Matthews, Melinda Matney, Pattie Conn, Mike Hartzell, Pat Logan, Pennie Roach, Carol Pokezwinski, Linda Lillie, Anne Hill, and Janice Buttenob.

Displaying his temperament, the selective chef decides there will be no service for the unfortunate customer whose name and social security number do not appeal to him.

Magic with a baton is performed by Janet Morrice.

Ed Hogenauer demonstrates his ability to do magic with cards.

Dancing the charlston is Beverly Oletzke.

"WORDS AND MUSIC"

"Words and Music" was the theme of the annual talent show presented January 21, 1961, in the cafeteria. Master of ceremonies, Joe Parente, introduced the polished acts which displayed a variety of talent in music, magic, monologue, and dance.

Playing jazz are the Mississippi Mudstompers: Bob Jackson, Brian Cole, Larry Naylor, Roger Bassett, Joe Parente, Larry Bender, Jim Hanson, and Paul Gillingham.

WORDS, MOODS, AND MUSIC

"American Moods" was the theme of this year's musical revue presented April 14 and 15 in the gym. Using one of the largest casts ever seen in the annual production, the program included Broadway show tunes by the Aeolian Chorale and orchestra; an original ballet created by Sue Volwiler and danced to Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" as played by the orchestra; vocal solos; two skits by the drama class; a modern dance; and special numbers by the swing band. Both the program and participants displayed full and colorful entertainment.

In a satire on the Hollywood detective, Melinda Matney as a damsel in distress comes to the abode of Peter Gunn. At left is Joe Parente with bongo player Jim Ferguson, center.

As Alice Gulley practices "Rhapsody in Blue," choir solosists Tom Rutledge and Kathy Edwards look on.

MEDALIST ENCORE

Reminiscing over old "cuts," blocks used for the reproduction of pictures, Dyane Lundberg, Paulette Johnson, and Steve West take time out from file cleaning.

Co-editors Marilyn Burke and Dave Fields look over a picture that feature editor Warren Lewis, standing, has submitted for their approval.

While Jim Bedell and Marsha James type, advertising manager Betty Jo Lutey and Karen Hite, business manager, take care of ads.

On alternate Fridays the black shades are down and all is ominous in Room 16. To those enlightened ones, however, there is no shroud of secrecy. They know it's just the hard-working Shoreliner staff preparing for the distribution of the paper.

Financed by the Student Body Fund and ads, the Shoreliner is a student publication put out by Mrs. Kay Keyes' first period journalists. Needless to say, staff members worked diligently on the newspaper, and for the second consecutive year the Columbia Scholastic Press Association has given them the Medalist Award, a coveted honor given to only ten per cent of the first place group in the judging of the 200,000 high school publications.

Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, inducted seventeen new members this year and gave creative writing awards to Dianne Draney and Jody Jordan. Standing: Warren Lewis, Treasurer, Paulette Johnson, Marcia Chevalier, Pam Brown, Karen Hite, Marsha James, Jeri Lynne Smith, Joyce Segelbaum, Gary Webster, Marilyn Burke, Roberta Smyth, Dave Fields, Secretary, and Norm Powers. Seated: Tom Lea, Vice President, Barbara Runkel, President, Linda Jo Pym, Pat Kruckeberg, Dyane Lundberg, Nita Milam, Ruth Sauer, and Mike McCusker. Not Pictured: Kiku Hayashi, Steve West, Karen Dougherty, Carol Stubblefield, Eric Black, and Mrs. Keyes, Adviser.

CLASSES

"WHAT WE ARE TO BE WE ARE NOW BECOMING"

Ed Robinson
President

Judy Fitzgerald
Secretary

Pat Saltarelli
Vice-President

Tom Watson
Treasurer

Mr. Richard Lander
Adviser

Four years ago the ground work of the Class of '61 was laid. With an unsurpassable quality of togetherness, six-hundred freshmen ventured through the halls of Shoreline. The class was not satisfied with just participating in all the traditional activities but went further to purchase the most S.B.A. cards of the year. As sophomores they received recognition not only through athletics, but also through their endless school spirit. Continuing Spartan traditions, this class began setting records by winning the coveted Rugby Cup twice in succession, by achieving success in the book drive, and by being well represented in honor society. As a senior, Ed Robinson presided over the class with the aid of Pat Saltarelli, Tom Watson, Judy Fitzgerald and their dedicated adviser, Mr. Richard Lander. Leading the seniors in their realization of their goals through achievement at Hec Edmundson Pavilion were the commencement speakers: Alice Gulley, Jim Hanson, Leslie Leggett, Bill Nelson, Barb Runkel and John Sundstrom. Seeking success in marriage, vocational schools, the armed forces, employment, and college, the Class of '61 becomes a part of society.

Setting a new tradition has its puzzling moments. Assisting Pete Everett (center), Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, in solving some problems are: Judy Fitzgerald, Sue Enochson, Kris Freeman, Mark Milbank, and Pat Saltarelli.

Choosing the right attire was one of the tasks facing the Cap and Gown Committee. As Bill McCormick, Nancy MacAllister, Bill Knudsen, and Co-chairman Pam Venable look on, Co-chairman Caralee Strong models one of the caps and gowns to be decided upon.

Pancakes? Waffles? Eggs? Which will it be? This decision was left to the Senior Breakfast Committee led by Co-chairman Jody Jordan (at the board), and Co-chairman Sydney Alward (standing). Robert Kromann, Mary Ann Teed and Missy Hanninen consult on the menu for this big meal.

An exciting week is in store for the seniors during Senior Week. Those pictured above are just a few who make this event successful: Joan Hanson, Charlene Starsinic, Sue Enochson, and Nancy Edwards, chm. Other members are: Ralph Burba, Judi Corcoran, Kathy Knaack, Bruce Kramer, Caralee Strong, and Jim Valley.

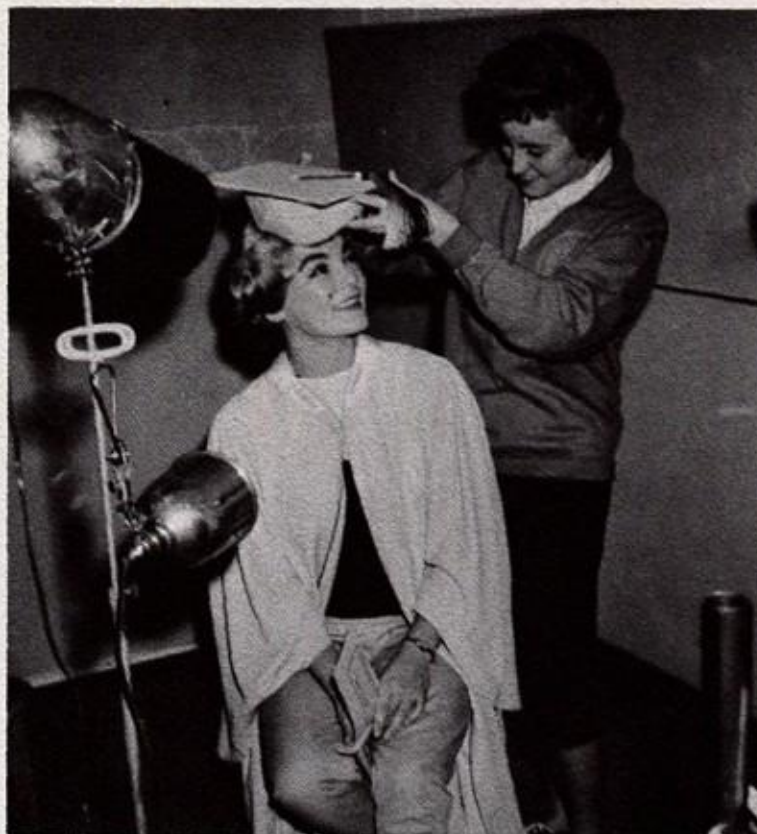

Donuts, malts, apples—they all sound delicious and are a welcome sight during the Snack Break. This year's committee did a good job providing this enjoyment for students. The members are: Dan Nice and Gloria Love, co-chm., Mary Jane Simonton, Mary Lou Barbieri, Carol Sprintels, Norm Olson, Bruce Way, Larry Norman, Norm Skafun, and Eimar Soot.

A surprise awaits as Holly Wee, chm. of the Gift and Motto committee, unveils the gift presented to the student body by the Class of '61.

Jubilant seniors cheer as faculty members lead them in a Rugby Cup cheer.

Senior pictures required the patience of both the students and photographer. An example of this is shown as Lynn Harrod arranges the cap for Kathy Milnor.

Exiting from the ballroom, Senior Ball committee members, Katie Atkinson, Jill Olseene and LaDonna Carter, freshen up.

Seated for dinner, other members of the Senior Ball committee, Deanna Hardin and Suzy Pedlow, co-chm., and Jan Gearheard and their dates, look forward to a delightful evening. Not pictured are: Bill Baldwin, Penny Budke, Bill Burns, Judy Fitzgerald, Kiku Hayashi, Brian Marts, Sharyn Muth, Marilyn Owen, Carolyn Rockey, Sherry Stevenson, Carol Stubblefield and Rich Wiley.

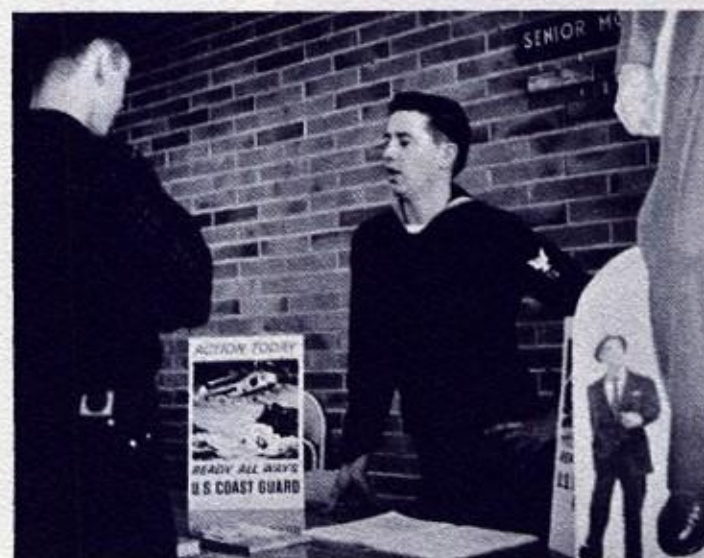

June arrived with much anxiety as graduation exercises neared. With this climax reached, after four memorable years at Shoreline, we can look to the future, which holds varied opportunities for success in:

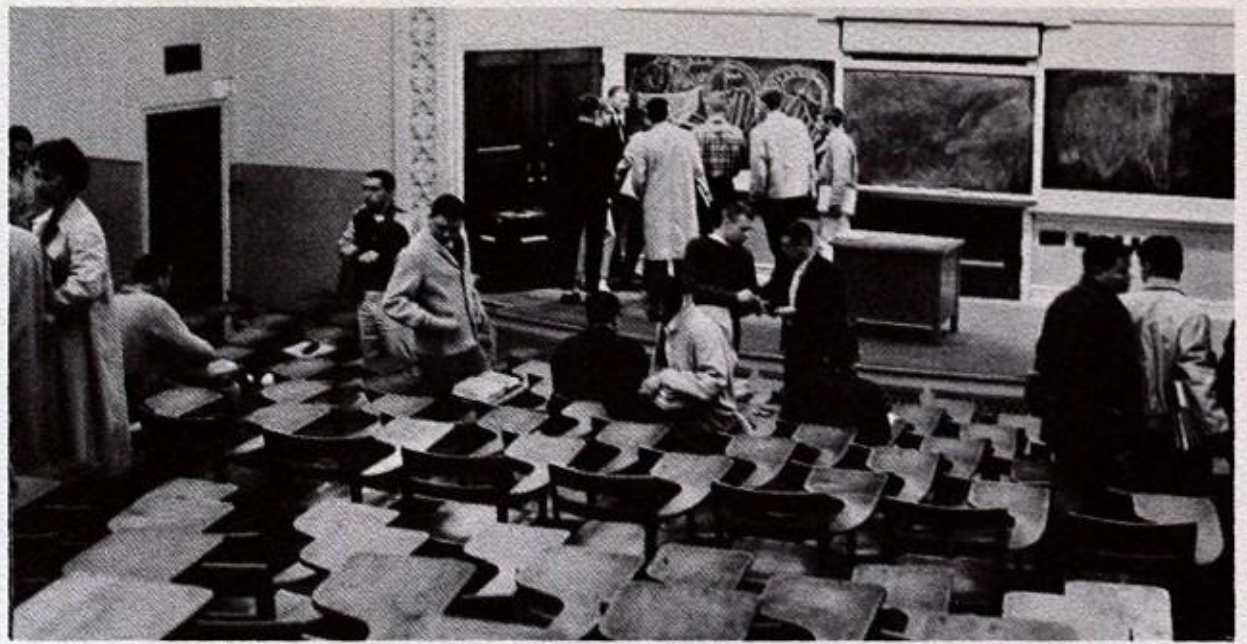

. . . Technical Schools,

Armed Forces,

College,

Business,

and Marriage.

THE CLASS OF '62 PREPARES TO LEAD

The juniors are no longer the youngest but as yet are not prepared to lead. This was the thought held by the Class of 1962 as it worked its way through a successful junior year.

From the beginning, this class exhibited true Spartan spirit . . . placing a close second in activity card sales, one per cent behind the seniors. Led by its officers, Gary Matthews, Mickie Koch, Ruthanne Lowe, and Kristi Nelson, the Junior Class screamed its way through football season, then settled down to show a more sophisticated side by dancing through the Junior Prom, Bali Ha'i. Then, in the spring, the many committees began the serious task of preparing for the future as seniors.

Yes, even while it became increasingly active as an essential part of Shoreline, the Junior Class looked to the future. Juniors realized the importance of the changes taking place in the world and prepared themselves to be more capable of meeting the challenges presented through widening horizons. Whether on the athletic field or in the classroom, whether going to a party for an evening of fun or to the library for an hour of quiet study, this preparation continued until, now, at the end of a wonderful year, the Class of 1962 is ready to assume the leadership of Shoreline.

But the energy and enthusiasm of this class will not dwindle or diminish because it has reached a temporary peak. The same forces which have spurred it on to accomplishment this year will keep its members striving forward and ready to meet the challenges of the future.

We are often told that history repeats itself and that we can learn something about the future by studying the past. If this is true, then what could be a more pleasant way of preparing for the future than the one demonstrated by (left to right) Skip McCaffery, Wendy Fairchild, Barrett Reynolds, Cheryl Hardin, Kathie Wilson, Bonnie Dixon, and Judy Mazurk as they prepare to see the historic Ben Hur.

Today we live in a jet age, but tomorrow jets will probably be as out of date as the biwinged plane of yesterday. Content to live in the present for awhile anyway (left to right), Leaving the U.S. behind, the juniors danced their way across the Pacific Ocean under the spell of the Tartans, to an island of dreams.

Here's the Class of '62. This year they've made quite an impression at assemblies, screaming their enthusiasm, shouting their approval, or, if the occasion called for it, listening quietly to a guest speaker. Despite the fact that there was no place for their books except on their feet and that it was so crowded that it was nearly impossible to move without doing it en masse, they've shown a great class spirit and proved themselves ready to move to the senior section next year.

CLASS OF '63 AIMS FOR SUCCESS

Sophomore Adviser
Mr. Enslin

Sophomore Representative
Rick Mackey

To acquaint the incoming sophomores with Shoreline, the Student Cabinet and the Pep Squad introduced the newcomers to the school, its traditions and activities in an assembly held the day before school started. This was the first of many educational experiences which followed.

Noted as "the class that isn't there," the sophomores came forth and elected Rick Mackey to lead them through their first year as their Representative. The title was given them after they forgot to respond at an assembly.

The sophomores became active participants in the activities throughout the school and eagerly sponsored school projects such as a sock hop after a basketball game. Receiving the necessary training to become prospective citizens, many sophomores represented their class academically in Honor Society.

Seattle's buildings, from the old and prominent Smith Tower to the swiftly rising frame of Century 21's hippodrome, give the city a unique character. Sports in our high school build character in each athlete, just as the buildings of the city combine to form its character.

SPARTANS TAKE METRO LEAGUE BY STORM

The Spartans' 1960 season was a real "Cinderella" story. In their first year of Metro competition the "Boys in Blue" put behind them an eight win, no loss record that made them champions of the toughest league in the state.

The first rumblings of change in the city league came as Shoreline met Sealth in the Metro Jamboree at the Memorial Stadium. Out of the 15 minute contest came a 71-yard scoring play that cinched a North victory and started the confident Seattle schools wondering what they had on their hands. A week later the Franklin Quakers fell under the Spartan sword to the lively tune of 41-0. There must have been some serious soul searching down south after Ballard tangled with Shoreline on the Memorial tide flat and came away nursing their pride and lowered standing. The going wasn't as easy against the snarling Lincoln Lynx, but in second and third quarter surges, Marx's Men firmly pinned the polecats with a 7 point advantage. The Roosevelt Teddies thought that they could stop the Spartan machine, tying the game with less than a minute to play. However, in what was probably the longest 44 seconds in Teddy history, the Spartans moved the ball 60 yards for the winning 7 points.

The following Friday on the Shoreline turf, the Ingraham Rams met their nemesis, but not without a struggle. While they did give up more points to the Spartan advances than did any other team, they also scored more than any other Spartan opponent. The last encounter of the regular season saw the Spartans and the Queen Anne Kuays pitted in a hard fought battle which ended with Shoreline holding a 6 point advantage.

The much anticipated Turkey Day game featured Shoreline representing the North division, and Garfield from the South. The two teams were well matched, and it was a see-saw affair up and down the rivulet scarred flatlands of the Memorial Stadium until a fateful play in the second quarter. Steve Weber scooped up a Bulldog fumble and ran 61 yards for a T.D. The extra point decided the game after an attempt by Garfield to retaliate netted them only 6 points.

One point made Shoreline a Metro champ, but the whole season more than justified Coach Marx's statement, "We came to play."

JAY-VEES AND SOPHOMORES PROMISE FUTURE SUCCESS

This year's sophomore squad, coached by Henry Thomson and Kenneth Habeck, can easily be considered Shoreline's insurance for continued football success. With a near perfect record of five wins and one tie (with Ballard) the sophomores kept the cumulative score of their opponents to 27 points, scoring 110 points in comparison.

SPARTANS TAKE THIRD IN NORTHERN DIVISION

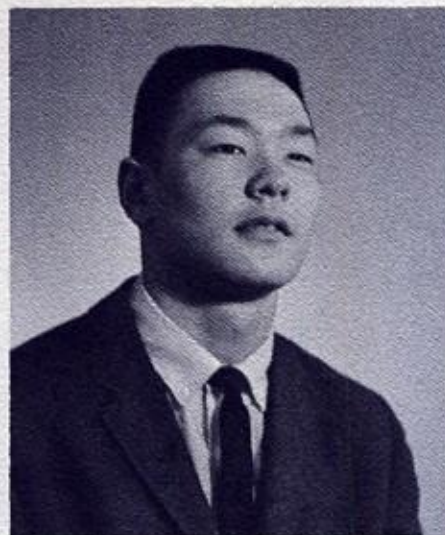

The season started slowly with a defeat to the remorseful Garfield Bulldogs, followed by a win over Sealth. Later the "men in blue" suffered losses to Roosevelt and to the Ballard Beavers.

After beating Queen Anne, Sherwood's Men lost three straight to Franklin, Ingraham and Lincoln. Recalling the Franklin game, students and parents were on edge as the Quakers won a last minute thriller by defeating Shoreline 48 to 47. The Spartans finished their season by winning six out of their last eight games.

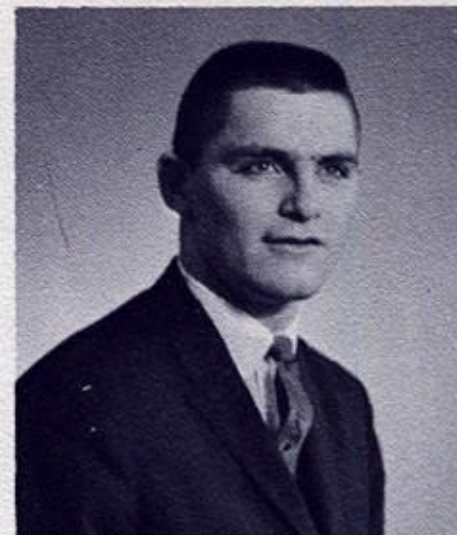

During the last game with Ingraham the excited crowds cheered the Spartans to an overtime victory of 65 to 61. With a total of eight wins and eight losses, they finished third in the Northern Division. Through the effort of the coach, Jack Sherwood, who inspired the team, the Spartans played their hardest to end a successful season.

J. V. TEAM GAINS VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

Hoping for a place on next year's varsity are: Jerry Peterson, Pete Ozanne, Pete Julius, and Dave Wilson. Not pictured, Ralph Barber.

This year's Junior Varsity, under the direction of their new coach, Mr. James Enslin, played a strenuous season facing aggressive opponents. Winning four out of their twelve seasonal games, they gained needed experience for next year's Varsity Team.

SOPHOMORES HAVE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Playing hard and showing much improvement, the Sophomore Team, coached by James Enslin, placed second in the Northern Division. These potential varsity players, practiced and drilled throughout the season, playing such teams as Roosevelt, Ballard and Lincoln.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS PACE THROUGH A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Coached by William Odell, our leather-lunged cross-country men out-paced opponents to obtain a second place in Greater Seattle competition and a sixth spot in the state. Off to a bad start (defeated by Snohomish 19-42) in their first encounter, the Spartans came back with a six meet winning streak: Oct. 4, Shoreline 20, Highline 41; Oct. 11, Shoreline 25, Edmonds 34; Shoreline 26, Mercer Island 33, on Oct. 14; Oct. 18, Spartans 20, Mountlake Terrace 40; Shoreline 26, Edmonds 33 on Oct. 25, and a Nov. 1 win over Mountlake Terrace, 18-41.

The big disappointment was the loss of the Greater Seattle championship to Franklin by five points. Despite this and the loss for next year of graduating seniors Gene Hoyle, Doug Worley, co-captain, and Lyle Dykes, Coach Odell expressed satisfaction with the season and great hopes for Vic (Bennie) Bennet who was the second ranking junior in the state.

Comparing lineups for a meet are managers Gary McCune and Bruce Way.

Each afternoon the cross country course is spotted with the Spartan wrestling team and their coach, Mr. Andrew Slatt. After defeating Lake Washington 21-9 for the first time in three years, they finished the season winning five out of their ten seasonal matches.

SPORTSMANSHIP: KEY GYMNASTIC OBJECTIVE

Brian Sternberg, High Bar

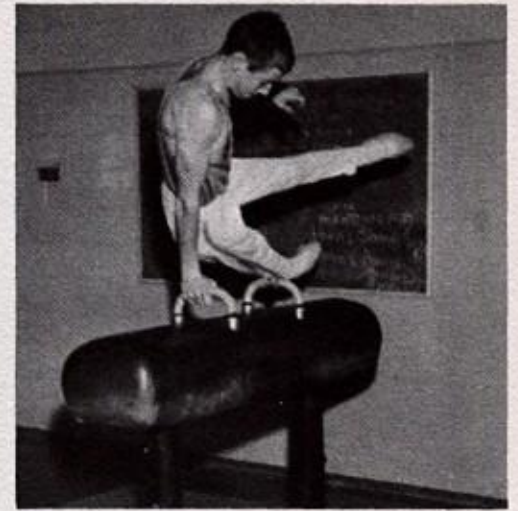

This year's gymnastic team spent many hours after school running cross-country, exercising and practicing for those important victories over Chehalis, Centralia and Bothell. Under the direction of their new coach, Mr. James McCann, the team finished a fair season as captain Brian Sternberg led the team to win three out of their eight seasonal meets. For Sternberg the many hours of practice paid off when he placed second in the state on the trampoline at the Washington State Gymnastic meet.

PEP BUILDERS BOOST SCHOOL SPIRIT

The marks of a unified school are pep and enthusiasm and, in these commodities, Shoreline is well supplied. But pep does not just occur, it must be inspired and built, and the best pep boosters in any school are its cheer and song leaders. Tireless workers where school spirit is concerned, the yell and song leaders are as much of an inspiration to the student body as is the team itself. Sports have an important role in unifying the school; the pep builders rank with them.

Leslie Robinson

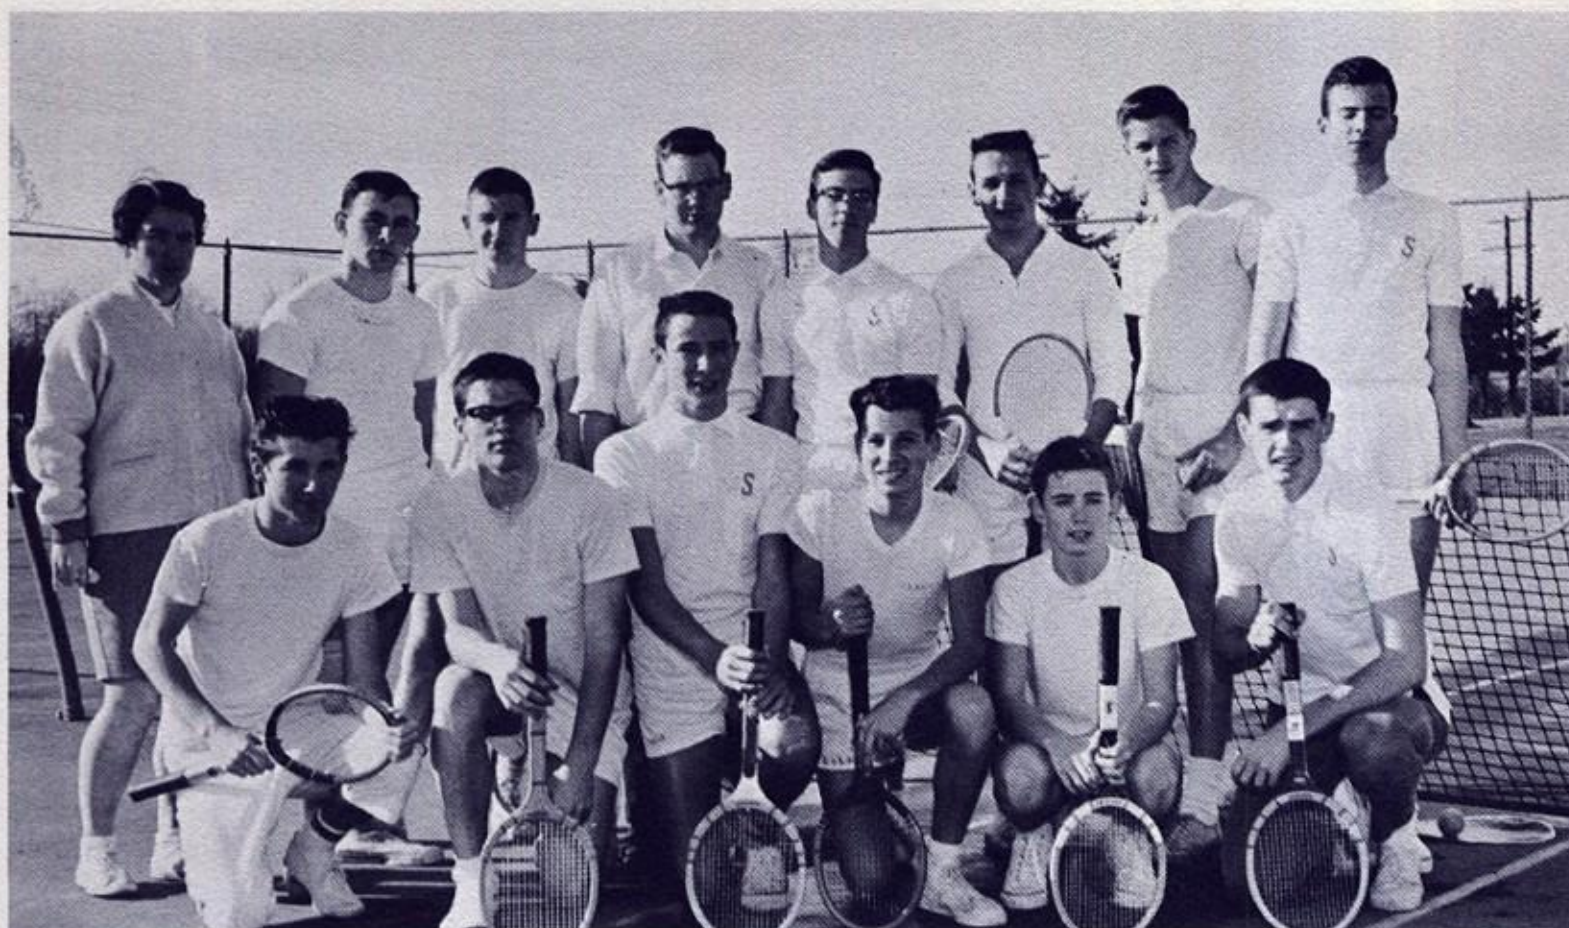

Champion baton twirler Janet Morrice has been an excellent pep builder during half-times.

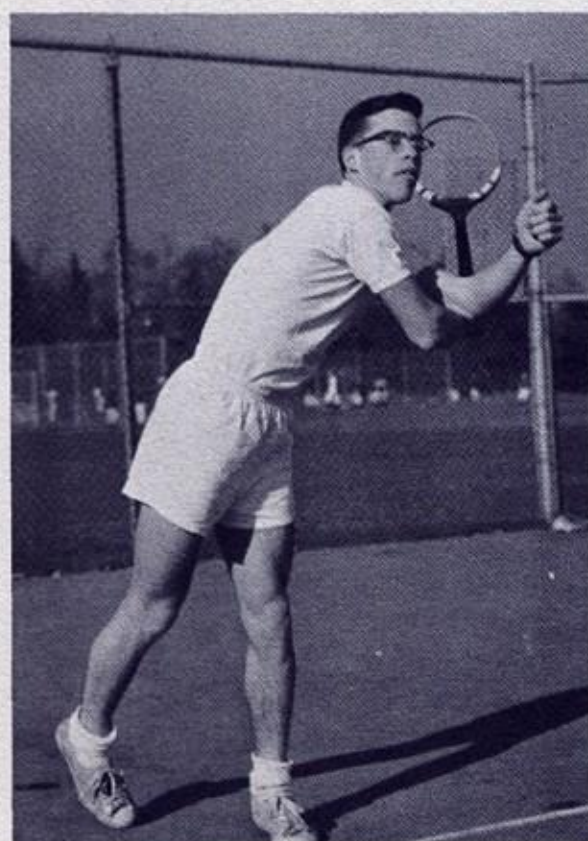

An occasional mishap is cause for extreme dismay even for skilled pep boosters such as LaDonna Carter and Steve Mackey.

RACKET SQUAD

Steve Lundberg, top tennis player, follows through after service.

The tennis team this year, under the direction of Miss Marilyn Mulroney, is starting its season with the hope of taking the Metro League championship. Inasmuch as several of the starting five are veterans, their experience and ability will be a deciding factor in the final standing.

Jack Olson, Second Base.

VARSITY BASEBALL SHOWS GREAT PROMISE

The baseball team of 1961, coached by Mr. Jelly Andersen, began its season with a 5 to 2 win over Cleveland followed by two more wins and a loss to Garfield. With this beginning record the team has shown great promise and with great effort the team hopes to win the city championship.

GOLF TEAM IN FULL SWING

Teeing off the season on April 17th, the golf team played its first match with Cleveland and Sealath in a three way match, which proved the Spartans' strength as they defeated both teams. Under the direction of Mr. Jack Shore, the golf team has many returning varsity players and several new members practicing year 'round to improve their game at Jackson and Inglewood Golf Courses. They will strive for victory over the city league schools.

TRACK TEAM PREPARES FOR DIFFICULT SEASON

Under the direction of Coach Henry Thomson, the track team has been preparing to meet some of the leading teams in the Metro League. With many of last year's varsity members returning, the Spartans will be strong in both the track and field events. Taking a first place in the All City Relay Carnival and winning the meet with Roosevelt, Coach Thomson feels his men will end with a victorious season.

During pre-seasonal turn out, Selmer Dahl exhibits strain as he throws the shot put.

As Mrs. Sylvia Ballard slides across the floor, two girls chase the ball during the faculty-student basketball game.

The Girls' Recreation Association is an organization for girls who enjoy participating in such sports as basketball, volleyball, badminton, tennis, and softball. Under the leadership of Marlain Berger, president, Carole Richardson, vice-president, Jacki Oves, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Isla Replogle, adviser, the club sponsored after school tournaments and a Saturday play day. Membership is open to all girls who earn a certain number of points in these activities. The girls have a good time and learn more about sports by joining G.R.A.

LETTERMEN CARRY ON ACTIVITIES OFF THE ATHLETIC FIELD

The Lettermen's Club is made up of boys who have earned letters as athletes or managers. With the help of Mr. Andrew Slatt, adviser, and President Gene Hoyle, the club sponsored several activities. The most outstanding was the annual All Sports Banquet, a dinner program for all students interested in athletics.

Danny Cox, vice-president, Gene Hoyle, president, and Ken Nolte, secretary, preside over a meeting of the Lettermen's Club.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS OFFER PARTICIPATION FOR ALL

Basketball champions Fred Lawless, George Daly, Terry Treloggen, Selmar Dahl, and Terry Hanlon reluctantly pose for the photographer.

Intramural sports offer everyone at Shoreline an opportunity to participate in after-school activities. In the fall there was a flag football tournament followed by a round of basketball. The mixed badminton games gave boy-girl teams a chance to play. During the winter and spring, a bowling tournament was held at Ballinger Bowl. A second round of basketball came in the spring with the winners of each half playing for the championship. The year's activities ended with a volleyball tournament. These activities gave many enjoyable hours to the students who participated.

The water plays an important role in the commerce and pleasure of the city. From Ballard's commercial waterfront to the peaceful waters of the arboretum, Seattleites use the lakes and sound for various activities.

ACTIVITIES

A successful establishment must have an efficient coordinator. Shoreline High School, which has proven to be successful in the past year, has been fortunate to have an eminent Student Body Association, led by four very able coordinators, the officers. Along with the officers, representatives of the classes, publications, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, and Honor Society, make up the executive department of the student government, the Cabinet. Another representative department is the Student Council, consisting of homeroom representatives. These departments successfully and efficiently led the Student Body Association through the year.

LEADERS OF TOMORROW CONFER

Looking over the agenda for a coming assembly are the Student Body officers, Jim Seather, Vice President; Bill Nelson, President; Sharon Dowdy, Secretary; and Karen Johnson, Treasurer.

Diligent discussion concerning future student government projects is occasionally worked into the otherwise busy schedule of our cabinet. This schedule consists of such important matters as eating, studying, listening to music, and socializing every third period in our Student Cabinet's "secret hideaway."

Representatives of the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes, school publications, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, and Honor Society comprise the Student Body Cabinet, which is led by the Student Body officers. At the beginning of the school year, the Cabinet members began working to promote the sales of the Student Body Activity cards, which climbed to ninety per cent. Another project undertaken by the Cabinet, during the football and basketball seasons, was the chartering of buses to transport Shoreline students to the games held away from the school. Just as the administration of a city directs and advises in the running of the city government, the Cabinet directs and advises the Student Body in homeroom projects, assembly planning, and the business of the Student Council.

AS REPRESENTATIVES OF THEIR CLASSES...

The members of the Student Council are responsible for many of the accomplishments of the past year. Several of the projects undertaken are the arrangements for securing a trophy case to be installed in the lobby, and an organized campaign to name the campus breezeways. A record of these activities and many others, such as dances and games, were kept in a scrapbook, compiled by members of the Student Council.

Taking time out from the planning of a sock hop are Patty Dayton and Brian Marts, Rosemary Norgord and Mike Cobb, Deanna Hardin and Paul Gillingham (Co-chairmen), Vicki Sorenson and Jim Valley, Marcia Chevalier and Rich Wiley, LaDonna Carter and Frank Tranter.

After a game students enjoy a sock hop sponsored by the Dance Committee.

"I COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT"

The planning of sock hops, program dances, and mixers is the responsibility of the Student Body Dance Committee. During the football and basketball seasons, the committee sponsored after-game sock hops, with the music of a band or records played by a guest disc jockey. Putting their heads together, the members of the committee came up with such dance titles as "Tiger Tromp Stomp" and "Spartan Showdown." During the spring, they sponsored several dances with various themes. The work of the committee included making and putting up decorations and designing programs. The committee was very successful in providing students with dancing enjoyment.

Decorating the cafeteria for a dance are Judi Hellstrom, Carol Fullerton, Juil Eaton, Carol Broderick, Pat Barnes, Pat Robinson, Cathie Murray, Patti Colacino, and Jeanne Senour. Perched on the bottom rung of the ladder is Mike Norwood followed by Steve West and Chuck Causey.

Preparing to paint a poster are Kathy Knaack and Cindy Gutkowski (Co-chairmen), Carol Schaeffer, and Peg Denton.

Working together on a poster for the Turkey Day game are Pam Davidson, Arleatta Williams, Ross Brydges, Ann Lindh, Peg Denton, Terry Tomlinson, Lynn Boden, Kathy Wildermuth, and Janet Derby.

HEADLINES, PEPLINES, AND PAINTLINES

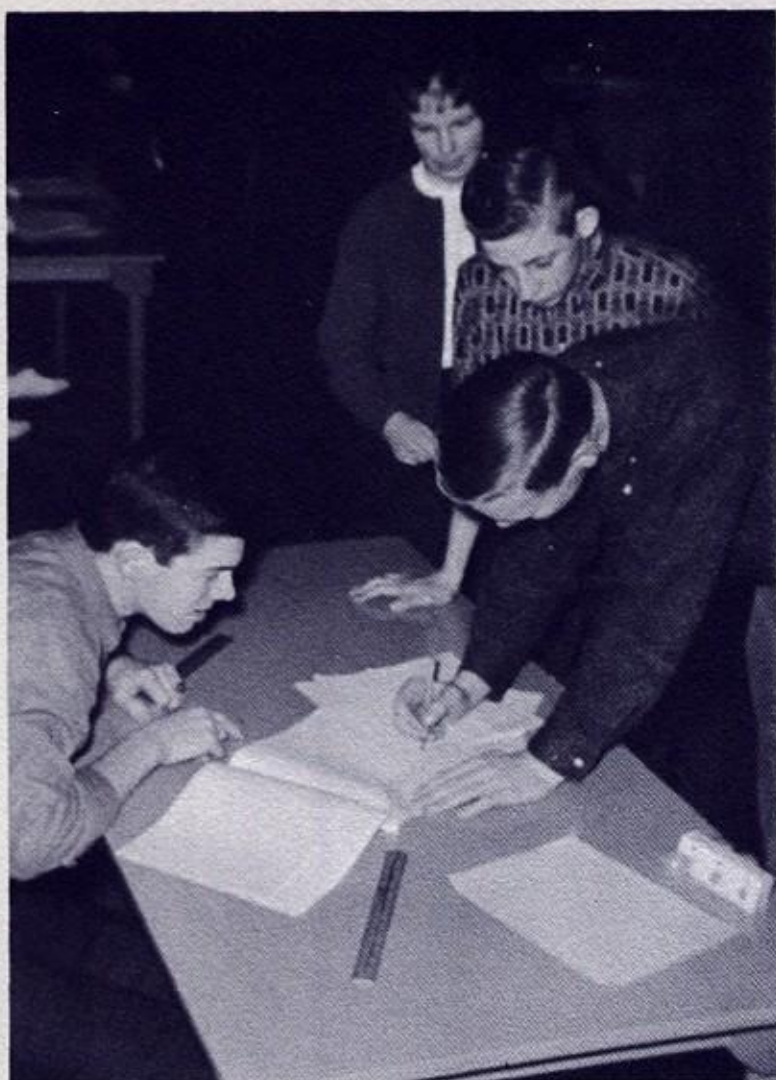

The Student Body Publicity Committee may easily be compared to a city newspaper. With the use of posters and pep buttons, featuring such expressions as "Grind Garfield" and "Tromp the Teddies," the committee advertised each game during the football and basketball seasons. On the cafeteria wall is the "front page" of this "newspaper," the Spartan Scoreboard, which consists of newsclippings telling of Spartan victories. "Publicity poets" concluded the football season with a history of the season's success in verse. With the committee's hard work during the year, the students have become aware of the sports events at Shoreline.

The Spartan Scoreboard is arranged on the cafeteria wall by Janice Hart, Kristi Nelson, Marcia Miller and Ann Bostrom.

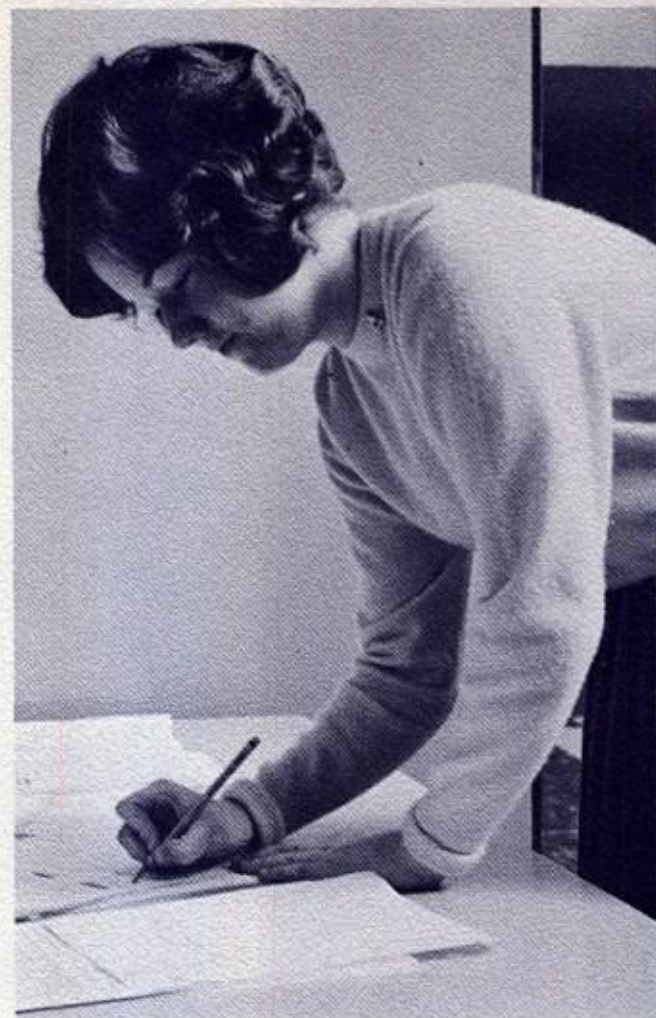

Karen Jore, Kit Christiansen, Rita Jore, and Janey Knaack put up posters in the cafeteria.

Paul Gillingham supervises the registration of students in the S.A.C.

To be eligible as a candidate for an office, Marcia Chevalier signs for a petition.

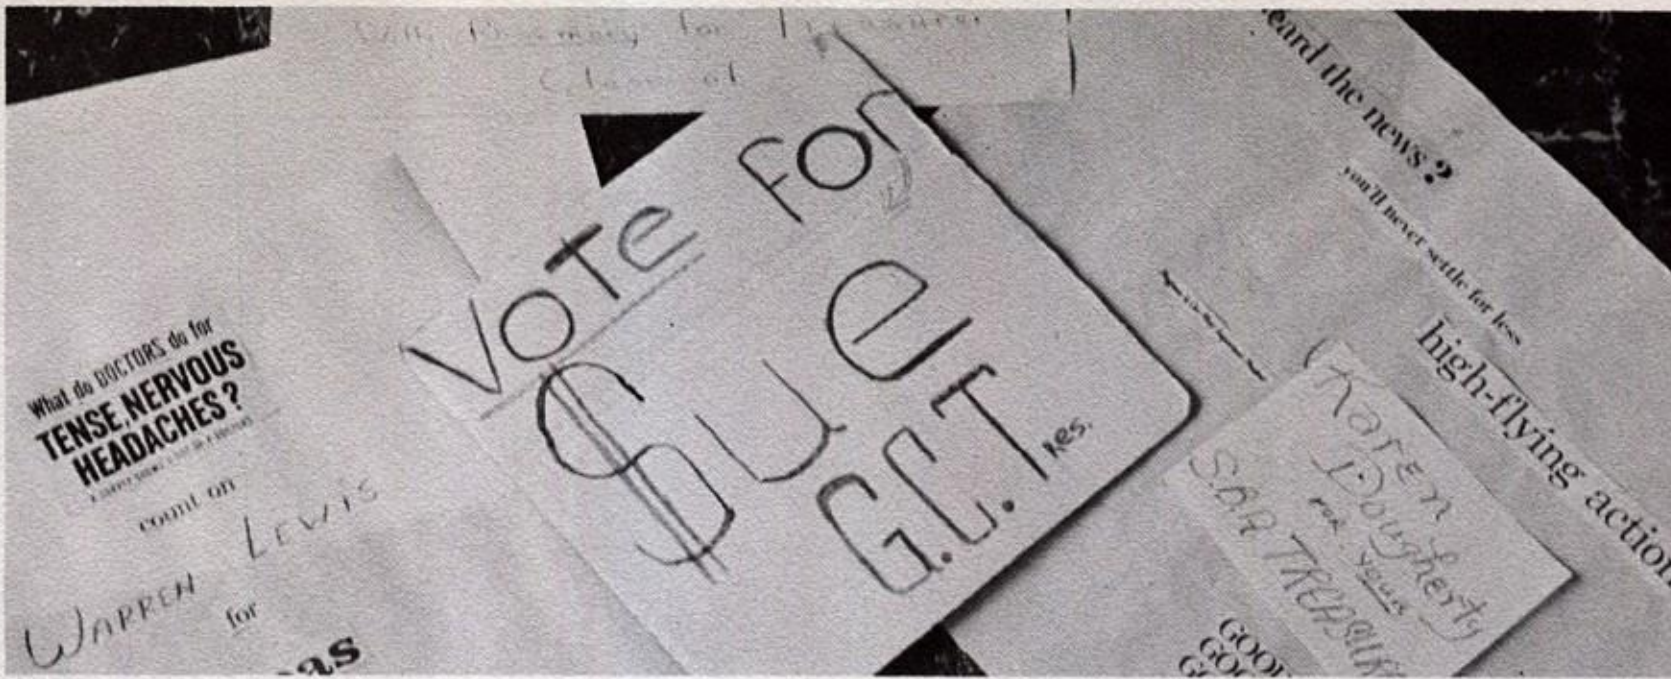

CHOOSING OUR LEADERS

Inasmuch as there were complications in the past election systems, the Student Body Elections Committee devised a more efficient one this year, which is patterned after the national election system. All students had to register if they wanted to vote and, instead of casting their ballots in the homerooms, the registered voters filled out their ballots in the S.A.C. during the day.

From April 28 to May 4, the halls of Shoreline were decorated with campaign posters and students were busily planning skits, which they presented at an assembly held the day before final elections. Good news for the winning candidates was announced on May 5, in the Campus Day Assembly.

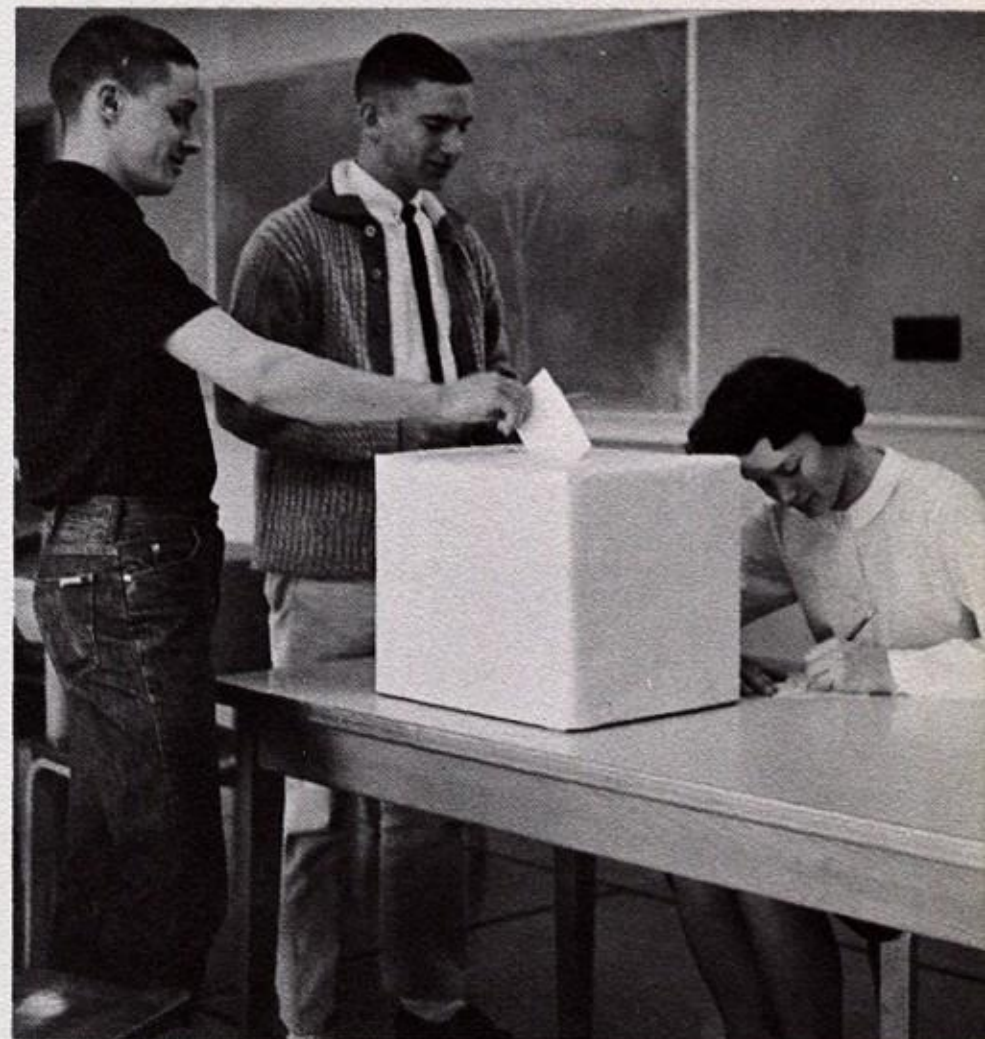

Bill Nelson, Tom Lea, and Jim Hanson, members of the Student Body Elections Committee, plan and supervise the elections.

The colorful campaign posters that covered the walls of Shoreline helped to make the elections more interesting for the voters as well as the candidates.

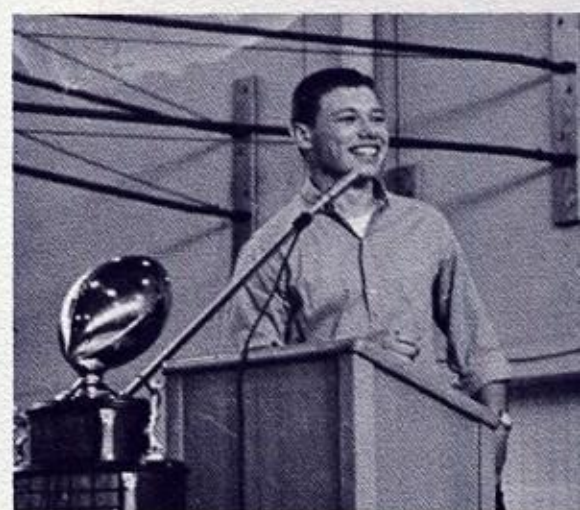

Pat Kruckeberg adds her name to the other names on Kristi Nelson's petition.

Filling out their ballots are Larry Paulson, Dick Best, and Sue Campbell.

Mr. Fred Olson presided over the assembly which distinguished the students in Honor Society.

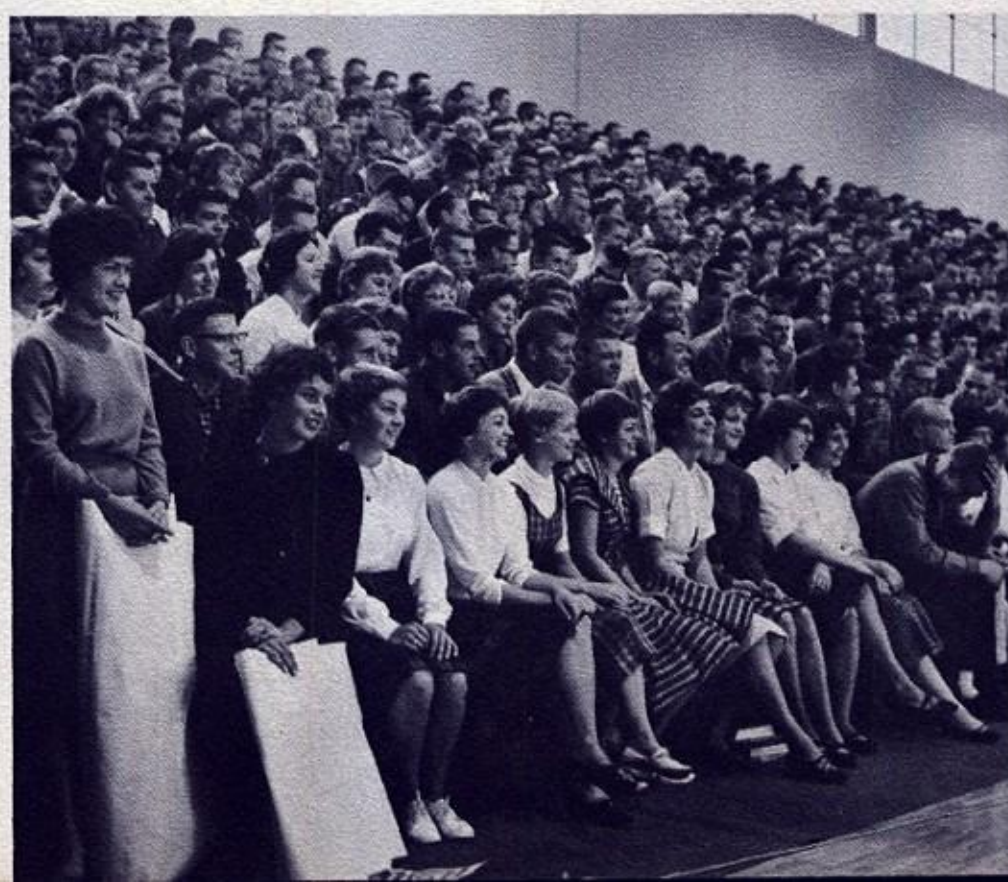

Ralph Burba and Steve Weber, co-captains of the football team, display the Metro League football trophy for all to admire.

The band, orchestra, and choir provided music for the student body in several assemblies.

A skit was presented by the student body Cabinet, much to the amusement of all, promoting the sale of Student Activity cards.

PEECHES FILL THE AIR

Rah! Rah! Rah! This was the cheer led by seven novice cheerleaders during a pep assembly.

This Is Your Life! Coach Bill Marx, our man of the year, was honored in a skit given by the teachers. The skit was a take-off on a television program entitled: "This Is Your Life."

Books! Books! Books! The student activity center was filled with books during Mr. William Odell's homeroom book sale. The entire student body helped to collect the books, but Mr. Odell's first period class did all the work of putting on the sale. The money received from the sale went into the student body fund for future use.

Many homerooms have participated in decorating halls, giving money to needy families, raising money for the student body, and providing deserving families with baskets of food at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. They have also helped with the book sale and light bulb blitz sponsored by the Lions Club.

Presenting the Washington State Flag to Mr. Ed Hasselblad for the school are representatives from Mr. Pat Ingersoll's and Mr. Oliver LaFreniere's homerooms. Front: Mr. Hasselblad, John Lauby, Pat Curry, Gail McCurdy, Joanne Shoemaker, and Mike Shipley. Back: Larry Meckling, Ken Argent, Diane Longbottom, and Joanne Riley.

HOMEROOM PROJECTS BENEFIT SCHOOL

During the Christmas season, Mrs. Bertha Lincoln's and Mrs. Katherine Timar's homerooms could be found diligently decorating the main hall.

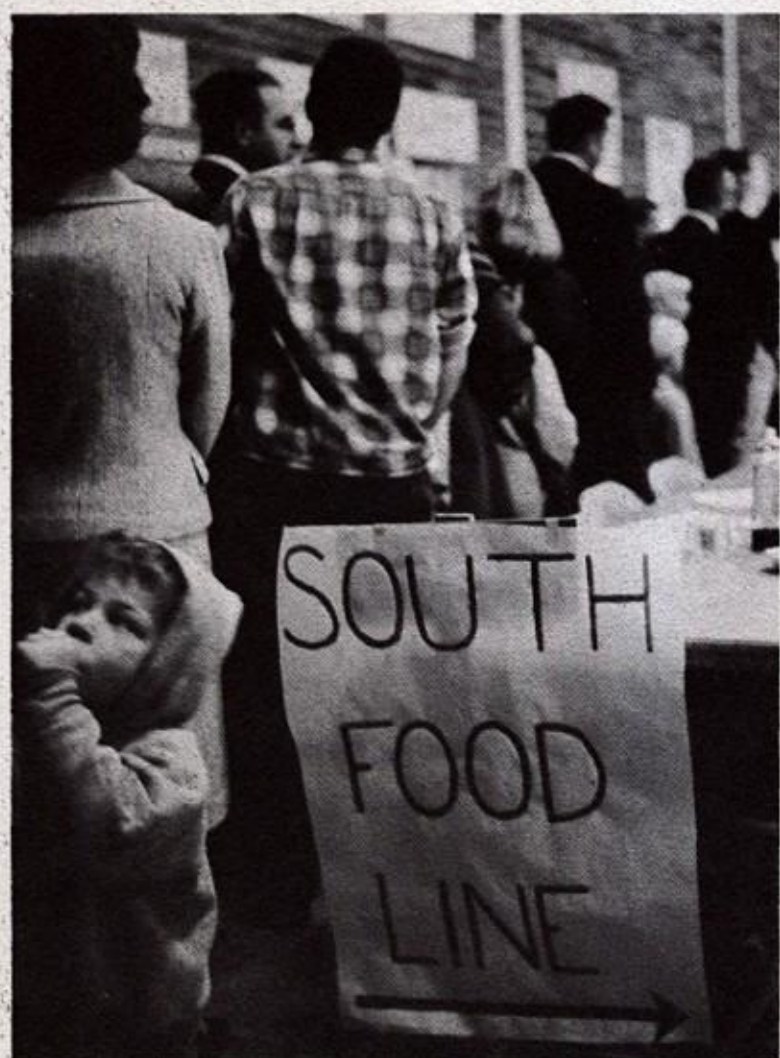

During home football and basketball games, Key Club members could be found serving behind the concessions counter.

Key Club members, led by their four capable officers, have participated in and sponsored many activities this year. Serving concessions at home games, sponsoring the annual Pancake Breakfast with the help of many companies and various entertainment, attending the Key Club convention in March, helping with the parking problems at home games, providing Shoreline students with a dance on May 5, and entering two names for nomination to the district Key Club offices, have been the major projects of this club throughout the year.

People anxiously lined up outside the doors for the annual Pancake Breakfast sponsored by the Key Club.

Diligently serving the prodigious number of people who attended the breakfast was quite a feat.

KEY CLUBBERS HAVE FUN WHILE SERVING

FUN AND RELAXATION IS THEIR COMPENSATION

The annual art exhibit, a fine display of talent, was sponsored by the Art Club. This busy organization produced much of the art work, such as posters and programs, for the school productions.

Evaluating their work are Barbara Bellcourt, Dusti Knudson, Mary Hamm, Yolanda Craig, and Judy Frost.

Completely absorbed in their games are Frank Prindible, Joe Clements, Gregg Smith, Steve Hughes, Reed Lockwood, and Ed McClurg.

The activities of Latin Club prove that Latin is not a dead language. Dressed in togas, the enthusiastic members put on skits at a Latin Club convention held in the fall and gave a spring banquet in Roman style.

Roman in spirit and dressed in togas are: (front row) Skip Goddard, Rick Burrus, Devon Blean, Mary Heiny, Mike Kennedy, Dennis Davenport, Marcia Bandazy, Gretchen Hall, Dorothy Coly, Josine Lehde, Peggy Miller, and Hallie Stegelvik, President. Middle row: Ron Smith, Al Keith, John MacLaren, Craig Sternberg, Andrea Chambers, Adele Baker, Paula Bayne, Marilyn Bell, Anne Mosness, Laurine Lehde, and Barb Welchert. Back row: Dennis Beckley, Bill Coleman, Don Norman, Ken Passe, Jan Stewart, Janette Sloper, Sue Evans, Pennie Roach, Sharon Wall, Pearl King, Lillie Hill, and Linda Prichard.

The game of chess offers a challenge and requires considerable concentration. The members of Chess Club learned how to play the game and then displayed their skill in meeting the challenge in tournaments.

WORKING FOR THE HEALTH OF OTHERS

The Junior Red Cross Cabinet, working through the various school departments, directed such projects as filling Christmas stockings and making toys for children's hospitals. These activities gave high school students an opportunity to help in the community.

Examining their work are Karen Hunter, Joe Carpenter, Marsha Routledge, and Cherry McPherron, President.

A discussion of activities is carried on by Karen Weiss, President, Sharon Robertson, Candy McElroy, Marilyn Pound, Gwen Means, Garlene Putnam, Ruth Lischeild, Patti Conn, Lynda Smith, and Nicky Tandy.

Interest in helping the handicapped is prominent in S.P.A.D.E.S. The enthusiastic members became "little helpers" in their workshop this year, making gifts and toys for disabled children.

Carole Coleman, Susan Flodquist, Nicky Tandy, and Amos Wing, President, discuss their plans for a field trip.

The activities of the S.C.O.T.H.S. this year centered around visits to medical schools, clinics, and hospitals. The members of this organization are students who are planning to enter some field of medicine.

THEY WORK TO KEEP

Operating the switchboard, filing cards, typing, running errands, taking messages, and greeting people are just a few of the responsibilities of the many girls working in the principal's office, counselors' offices, and attendance office.

The sanity of many of our teachers is often dependent upon their reliable teachers' assistants. These assistants file, record grades, correct tests, type, and put up the attractive bulletin boards seen in many rooms.

Thermometers, scales, cotton swabs, tongue depressors, and blankets are some of the equipment used by the girls known as nurse's aides. Without their assistance, all of the students at Shoreline would have to suffer through their pains by themselves without any sympathetic helpers.

OUR SUPERIORS INTACT

The help offered by the P.E. assistants is greatly appreciated by the teachers in the Physical Education Department. Assisting in class, checking attendance, distributing equipment, and taking shower numbers are some of their jobs.

Without the help of the lunchroom assistants, the cooks would probably be in a turmoil. We would all be serving our own food, washing our own dishes, and cleaning up our own tables. The system of the lunchroom revolves around this efficient crew.

All equipment used by the classes when viewing a film or hearing a recording is taken care of by the audio visual squad. These fellows schedule films, set-up the equipment, and return all the items used to their proper places.

The Library Assistants "lighten the load" for the librarians. They help by checking books in and out at the desk, arranging them in their proper order in the book shelves, and issuing magazines to students for reference use.

The French Club is a new organization, formed this year for those French students who wish to put their knowledge of the language to use. Some of the activities of the club include learning and singing French songs and studying about the people of France.

Relaxing around their Model A, after a meeting are, sitting: Dean Peterson, Steve Curtis, Treasurer, John Syphers, Vice President, Ron Dayton, Chuck Olson, and Len Dodge. Standing: Mr. Pesznecker, Vern Thompson, Terry Dahl, Ron Beatte, and Dan Nice, President.

The Bonhommes, Shoreline's automobile club, sponsored the car exhibit at the Key Club Pancake Breakfast and exhibited a car in the annual Seattle Rod and Custom show. Later in the year, they took a trip to Portland to view an automobile show. Sponsoring the miniature rod and custom show in the window of room 1, viewing films on safe driving, and conducting miniature rallies kept these boys interested in their Monday night meetings directed by Mr. Dave Pesznecker.

JEWELS OF THE CITY SPARKLE ON CHAMPLEVÉ

Sparkling eyes, rippling laughter, white dinner jackets, and beautiful dresses characterized the couples attending the Senior Ball. The theme, Champlevé, meaning enchantment, was carried out with the decorations and music. The well-known Ken Cloud Orchestra provided the music; local entertainment amused the students and chaperones during intermission. Couples began arriving at the University of Washington Hub at 9:30 and were sorry when the bewitching hour of 1:00 arrived. Tired feet and exhausted conversation followed the students to their destinations when this highlight of all the high school activities was over.

Discussing a recent film are: Nina Dodd, Karen Deitz, Garlene Putnam, Judy Jones, and Carolyn Barker. Standing are Pat Holland, Vice-President, Marsha Holland, Teresa Ryan, Harlen Johnson, Judy Mazurk, Kathy Hamilton, Peggy Miller, Elaine Backman, Kay Ketcham, Ray Willman, Pat Kinney, and Judy Duggar.

Those who choose teaching as a profession get a glance at their future through the Future Teachers of America. Films, speakers, and panel discussions offer valuable information.

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE

Admiring the F.B.L.A. banner are: Ruthe Adair, Linda Tulley, Bobbi McDaniel, Jack Largent, and (standing) Sharon Haddenham, Gay Goodrich, President, Linda Bingham, and Sonja Carlson.

Taking part in the induction of officers are: Chuck Worst, Hogenauer, Jim Ballard, Mr. Boye (Adviser), Wes Hansberry, Bill Fawcett, and Dan Nice, (middle row) Dave Lindsey, B McCormick, Terry Tomlinson, Paul Worrel, and Larry Toole (back row) Dave Oren, Bill Knudson, and Allan McDonald.

Hi-Y, affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., gives high school boys an opportunity to perform services for their community. In the past, this club has been a great service to Shoreline. Besides adorning the school parking lot with its colorful Hi-Y car, it took charge of the registration of students' cars.

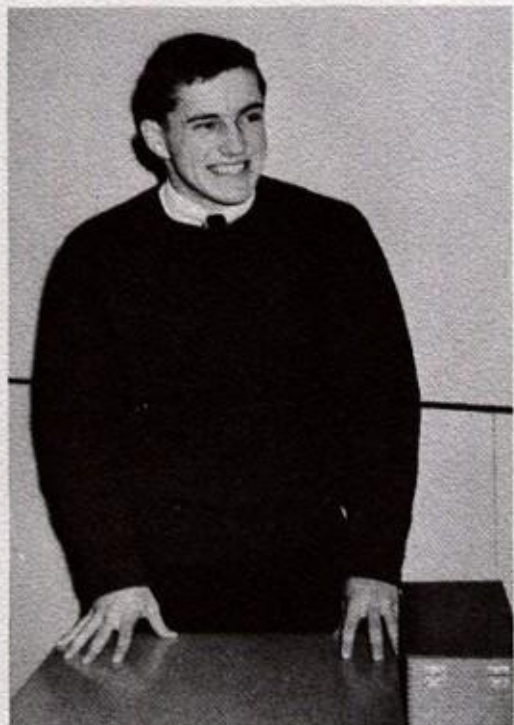

The time will come when they step into the great new world, but they are preparing for that world. In the business world, that is. Field trips and guest speakers help the Future Business Leaders of America develop their business outlook.

BOYS' CLUB CONTINUES SERVICE

Characteristically promoting service and enthusiasm in their organization, the Shoreline Boys' Club has sponsored various projects to improve the student body as a whole, as well as the standards of their particular club. Such services as maintaining the school grounds and the organizing of the Vehicle Administration display the spirit of the club. At social events, the boys have sold tickets and have taken charge of ushering. These various projects kept them busy throughout the year, fulfilling their duties of service to the school.

GIRLS' CLUB PROMOTES FRIENDSHIP

The daughters of Shoreline, while upholding their creed, have "... pressed on to greater achievements ..." by creating inspiration towards a friendly environment. This congenial atmosphere is characterized by their numerous activities and projects, such as the annual Coke party, "Be My Buddy," to offer a "get acquainted time" for all Shoreline girls. Other activities include: the Father-Daughter Banquet, the Tolo, the Fashion Show, various Special Days, and the Mother-Daughter Tea. The Girls' Club Cabinet, together with their adviser, Miss Helen Lewis, and the Shoreline sisters, have achieved great success in promoting a feeling of friendship.

STUDENT LIFE

ENERGIES ESCAPE ON WEEKENDS

When the final bell rings on Friday afternoon, the students of Shoreline enter their weekend world. This world is filled with all the excitement a city and its surrounding area provide: bowling, swimming, skiing, skating, dancing, and movie going. But too soon, Sunday evening arrives and with it must come the long forgotten homework.

Steve McPherson and Merrily Berg enjoy an evening at the theatre.

To dance or not to dance, that is the question.

Learning the ways of culinary experts are Larry Courtier and Warren Lewis.

NOVICES' DELIGHT

Dinner by candle light, soft music, and sparkling eyes set the scene for Warren Lewis and Larry Courtier as a prelude to a delightful evening at the Junior Prom. It took only a small amount of effort for these boys to create an enjoyable dining atmosphere for their dates. Acting as chefs, both boys learned a great deal about life in the kitchen.

Admiring the cover and relaxing to the music of Belafonte are Sharon Powell and Warren Lewis.

THE HELPING HAND...

Smiling hesitantly, Mr. Bill Pierre relinquishes the family car keys to his son, Bill Jr.

In the busy turmoil of high school life we often forget the ones who help us the most. They are often the ones that break up the parties at 12 o'clock and suggest that we do the dishes. Nevertheless they are also the ones who hand us car keys, give us allowances, encourage us in our studying and finish prom dresses for us at the last minute. Yes, despite the small tasks they ask of us, we couldn't live without them. Who are they? "Our Parents."

Fatherly advice goes along with a five spot which Mr. Fitzpatrick gives to his son, Don.

Ren and Mary receive assistance with their homework from their mother, Mrs. C. Brown.

An hour before the prom, Mrs. Bernice Dowdy busily puts the finishing touches on the dress as Sharon supervises.

As graduation draws near students begin to contemplate future plans more seriously.

"Pizza, what is it?" questioned the six exchange students from Kamloops, Canada.

It must be here someplace.

"LEST WE FORGET..."

The 1961 school year holds many treasured memories for the student. The elegance of the Senior Ball and the dignity of Commencement will long be remembered as two highlights of an eventful senior year. For the juniors and sophomores, the excitement of elections and the anticipation of becoming upper-classmen climaxed the year's activities. In the midst of the bustle, the Tide staff was there recording the important events—but not without additional help.

The birth of an annual is a painful process at times, and it is to their everlasting credit that the patience and self-control of several groups and individuals lasted through the creation. Among those that extended a more than usual amount of T.L.C. was Rowland Studio to whom the Staff gives a special cheer for his photography. Also picture-wise, Mr. Robert Peterson of Robert's Studio contributed several outstanding shots to the sports section.

Borrowed backdrops, props, and facilities played major roles in a number of the city scenes and pictures of student life. Credit for the use of these goes in diverse directions. Thanks to Mr. George Harrison of Northwest Airlines for the use of his 707 and to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lutey for their unusually spacious swimming pool. To the Seattle Public Library we extend apologies for running rampant between and over their bookshelves. The same apology applies to the Blue Mouse and Les Teagle's for lost customers. For the Senior Ball and Commencement episodes our old standbys, Brocklind Formal Wear and Gould and Co. generously donated the appropriate costumes.

Outstanding this year were the ideas and assistance on the cover, and those to whom we owe appreciation are Mrs. Pat Nichol森 and LaDonna Carter for first experimental ideas and Mr. John Livingston for designing the production model.

Less spectacular, but equally necessary for the production of the book was the indulgence of the office staff during our sporadic disarrangement of their files, as well as that of the Shoreliner staff for the use of glue, typewriters, and telephones.

When the last pages had gone to press and the last wrist had been slashed with the exacto knives, the fate of the book rested with L&H Printing, the understanding people who always showed patience with our blunders. As the threat of a strike loomed over the printing plant, staffers held daily sacrifices to protect the book. To all the people whom we troubled, tried, and terrorized, the 1961 Tide Staff gives you a big, heartfelt thank you!

"BLOOD, TOIL, TEARS, AND 'SWEAT'"

As the bustle of school life began in September, the Tide Staff commenced work on the biggest publication of the school year. Putting in long hours soon became second nature to everyone, especially to those whose deadlines came in November or December. After completing individual sections, staff members assisted others with their sections. Since the staff was only "fourteen strong," a few difficulties were encountered, but these were quickly overcome. As the final pages go to press, the '61 Tide Staff can look back over the past months and reminisce about the many late nights spent finishing sections or taking last minute pictures. On a trip to Snoqualmie Pass two rolls of film were taken, all of which failed to turn out. However, the journey did enable staff members to participate in the night skiing.

Picture taking assignments took the staffers to many places in Seattle including the Door, Clark's Restaurant, the Floating Bridge, Alki Point and Sea-Tac Airport. On another of their many journeys the staff ventured to Camano Island for pictures, as well as a picnic. After several mechanical failures such as throwing a rod in one car they finally made it, only to be drenched when their hastily built raft sank. It's been a memorable year for the Tide Staff.

HONOR SOCIETY PROVIDES INSPIRATION

Barb Runkel
President

Brian Cole
Vice-President

When our school is academically appraised, the group which best represents us is the Honor Society. With a minimum grade point average of 3.2 and high citizenship requirements, the Honor Society has a membership of 160 students. The main projects of the year include an extensive school handbook and a spring banquet, besides picking exchange students to Kamloops and two commencement speakers. Under the advisership of Mr. Fred Olson, the Honor Society has done much to inspire and motivate academic achievement.

Alice Gulley
Secretary

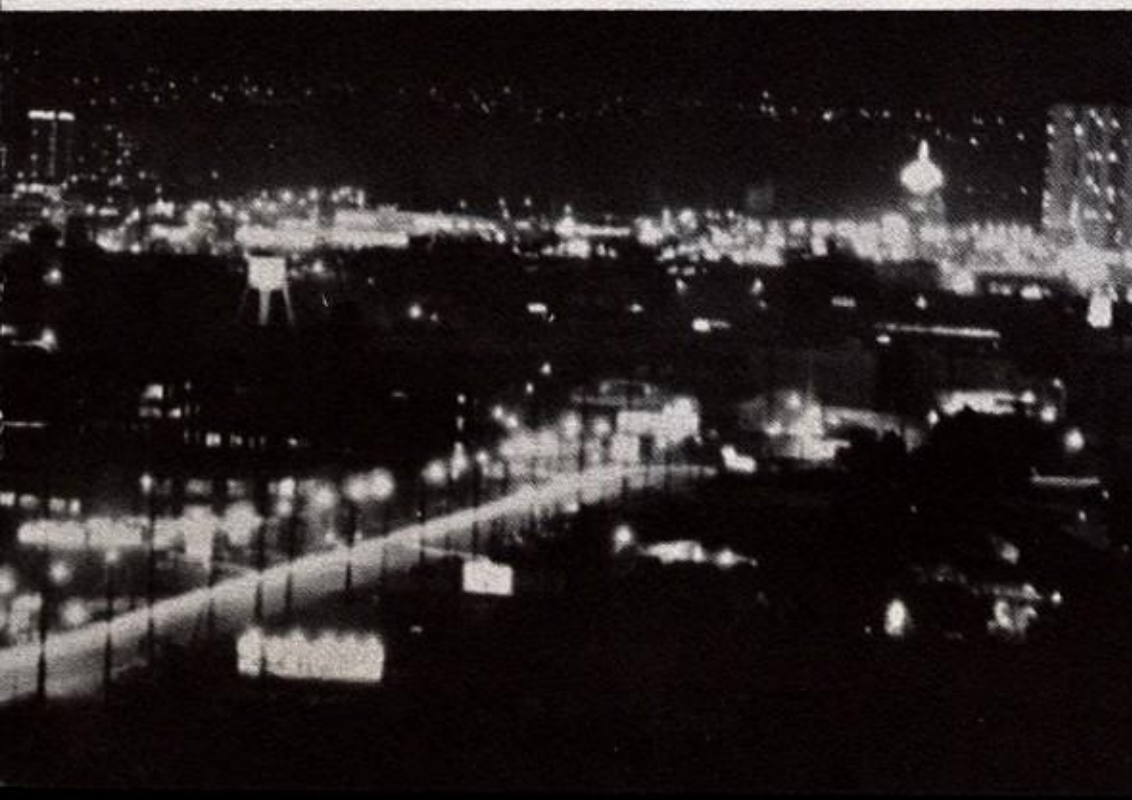

Jim Hanson
Treasurer

Presiding over an assembly which distinguished the Honor Society members, Mr. Fred Olson addresses the student body.

While academic achievement has its hardships, it also has its rewards. Shoreline students receive annually thousands of dollars in scholarships and many other awards. On the national level students receive scholarships from General Motors, N.M.S.Q.T., and other foundations. Many of the awards come directly from the colleges. Local scholarships include the Elks Leadership and Scholarship, Nellie Carmen, Melvin G. Syre, William Mallis, and Alfred Sloan awards. Given in recognition of leadership, scholarship, and hard work, these awards help the students with their college expenses as well as inspiring others to work harder.

The city at night, teeming with people, will employ and entertain many of the students of Shoreline.

As their raft sinks slowly into the west and the icy waters of Puget Sound slap over their legs, the members of the '61 Tide Staff wave good-bye to the students of Shoreline High School as they depart for a fun-filled vacation in Hawaii. Transportation costs for the trip are kept at a minimum because the cost of the book was higher than had been expected. However, staff members anticipate no immediate propulsion difficulties. Their memories of a hectic year will drive them on. In fact, the explosive national and international events of the year could easily be likened to the explosive moments in the formation of this Tide.

The World Series, the presidential campaign with its televised debates, New Frontier, and inauguration excitement, and the Huskies second successive Rose Bowl triumph all are symbolic of the many flurries of frenzied enthusiasm put forth by staff members during the fall. Not only was this a time of activity but it was also a period of learning, learning that resulted in lopsided pictures, unwritten copy, and delayed deadlines. Next, while Century 21 changed from plans to reality, the freeway stretched across Lake Union, and the Cosmonaut circled the earth, the '61 Tide progressed to near completion. Then, with frantic frenzy equal in strength to the Cuban and Laotian crises, the final pages of this Tide were completed. Now, a work-weary crew sets forth on the first leg of its own "Exodus" to the enchanted islands of Hawaii.)
